SIT-DOWN MEN SOON MAY QUIT AUTO PLANTS

At Flint, Mich., General Motors Delay Filing of Ejection Writ

Detroit Scene of New Peace Talks

Associated Press

Flint, Mich., Feb. 4.—Roy E. Brownell, attorney here for the General Motors Corporation, said this afternoon that "I believe the union will ask its men to leave the plants here peacefully," and announced he would defer filing a petition for a writ requiring their ejection under the terms of an injunction granted Tuesday by Judge Gadoia.

Brownell said the writ would not be filed pending the outcome of strike peace conferences between high General Motors officials and labor leaders in Detroit.

Previously, he had said the writ would be filed this afternoon.

TROOPS ON DUTY

While the strikers remained in two plants, the 1,200 Michigan National Guardsmen on duty still maintained their lines.

When reports came today that mobilization of reserve police had been resumed, Chief J. V. Wills said his "enlistment" of "reserve police" did not constitute a violation of a non-violence truce reached last night between city authorities and the United Automobile Workers of America.

The chief said he was not mobilizing his "reserves," but instructing them to remain on call for duty at any hour to "maintain law and order."

Meanwhile, at Detroit, Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan resumed his efforts to find a basis for solution of the strike as he again called to the conference table representatives of the corporation, the United Automobile Workers of America and the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The third meeting of the conference, summoned as "the wish of the President of the United States," assembled in the court chambers of Recorder Judge George Murphy, a brother of the Governor.

Dr. H. M. Tory, Reporting to Parliament As Royal Commissioner Urges Canada Do Not Allow Monopolies to Grow on Anthracite Imports

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—Maintenance of competition in blow coal by continuing importation from foreign countries is recommended by Dr. H. M. Tory, royal commissioner who inquired into importation and distribution of anthracite. His report was tabled today in the House of Commons by Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor.

Dr. Tory found no evidence of price-fixing.

DIRECT IMPORTATION

His other recommendations: Importation should come directly from the country of origin instead of through agencies controlling competitive supplies in another country. Co-operative organizations should be encouraged.

Municipalities should take more vigorous action to prevent frauds. Anthracite entering Canada should be classified as to country of origin, mixture should be so named and Welsh coal should be classified in two grades.

Systematic analyses of imported anthracites should be made, cost of classification and analysis to be covered by a levy of two cents a ton on the imports.

FREEDOM EXISTS

"At the present moment in so far as the fixing of export prices of anthracite in the countries of origin permit, there is freedom in competition in the importation of anthracite coal," he said.

"Your commission recommends that every effort should be made to maintain that position."

Rooftop Close-up of Flooded Town In Ohio River Valley

A cameraman climbed to the roof of a distillery in Lawrenceburg, Indiana, to secure the above picture of flood ravages of the Ohio River that made 10,000 flee the town. In the right foreground are seen scattered small buildings, uprooted and tossed aside by the torrent while the water rose to the roofs of lower homes and above the second story of the average house. The panorama shows how the river covered the entire flat land to the edge of the range of hills rising in the background.

Power Break Halts Victoria Lighting And Street Cars

Coat of Arms Costs Are High

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Feb. 4.—Vancouver aldermen wondered today whether they had acted too quickly in giving their approval to a Junior Board of Trade suggestion that "and air" be included in the city's motto: "By land and sea we prosper."

Changing the coat of arms on door handles, bronze plaques and polished granite slabs of the new $1,500,000 city hall will cost about $5,000, contractors estimated. In addition, civic notepaper and seals will need to be altered, and approval of the College of Heraldry must be obtained before an airplane can be added to the civic insignia.

Greater Victoria Without Electricity for an Hour and a Quarter; Light Service Partially Restored; Street Cars Tied Up; Break Occurred In Transmission Line From Jordan River

Greater Victoria was without light and power for an hour and a quarter this morning when weather conditions caused a break in the transmission line between Victoria and Jordan River, where the B.C. Electric Railway Company's power plant is located.

Light service was restored at 12:15 o'clock but services on the heavier circuits were without power until late this afternoon. Restoration of the light service was made possible when the company's auxiliary steam plant at Brentwood was placed in operation.

The light service, however, was only made available in the business area as further trouble prevented immediate restoration in the suburban areas.

Trouble crews were immediately dispatched by the company to trace the source of the trouble on the main transmission line.

STREET CARS STOPPED

Street cars were halted where they stood as the breakdown came at 11 o'clock. At some downtown points they were stopped at points which interrupted traffic and it was necessary for police to direct cars.

The breakdown caused inconvenience to local business houses and housekeepers who were preparing their mid-day meals. In the city stores candles were brought into use and thousands of tapers burned on the various floors as customers were served.

In bond houses brokers were without service from eastern firms.

DINNERS SPOILED

Some housewives reported that lunches were spoiled as they were only partly cooked in electric ovens when the power went off. At one Oak Bay (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

SNOWFALL WILL NOT BE HEAVY

It Will Fall Today, However, As Thermometer Hovers About Freezing Point

As the temperature hovered about the freezing point today, snow became imminent for Victoria, although weather observers did not think the city was in for a great fall. The wind was from the northeast.

Heavy rain fell during the night and turned to snow about 7:30 o'clock this morning. It continued to fall in great flakes until 11 o'clock when it turned to sleet.

The residential districts were covered in a blanket of white, but in the business section the snow turned to slush as soon as it hit the pavement. Up-Island it was snowing heavily and the Malahat Highway was covered in nearly eight inches. Sidney and Saanich also reported much snow, a regular blizzard blowing at Sidney at 8 o'clock this morning.

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Feb. 4.—Winter continued to grip Vancouver today after snow fell almost continuously all during the night. A total of three inches had fallen by noon today but all but about an inch had melted in the downtown district, the temperature remaining above freezing.

Possibility of rain was seen, however, as a depression of unknown intensity was reported approaching southern British Columbia. Chilliwack, sixty miles east of Vancouver, in the Fraser Valley, reported the worst storm of the winter today with highways blocked by drifting snow.

From twelve to sixteen degrees of frost was reported in the Okanagan Valley, in the southern interior, with snow general.

Men In Court In Vancouver Total 117

Charged As Inmates of Gaming House Are 116; One Accused As Keeper

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Feb. 4.—Charles H. Wohlford, charged as keeper of a gaming house, and 116 men charged as inmates appeared in police court here today and were remanded one week for trial.

They were arrested by city police late yesterday in a raid on the Broadway Social Club, and later released on bail. Wohlford's bail was set at $500 and the others at $5 each.

BRUNSWICK CLUB

The raid on the club followed within seven hours the conviction of Danny Williamson on a charge of keeping a gaming house. He was fined $200 by Magistrate H. S. Wood.

One hundred and eighty-four men, arrested with Williamson January 17 when police raided premises of the Brunswick Sports Club, also appeared yesterday on charges of being inmates of a gaming house and were remanded to next week.

Eight tables, poker chips, cards and other alleged gaming paraphernalia were seized by police in yesterday's raid.

Government Will Look Into Crews For Empress Ships

Question of Canadians or Orientals on Pacific Liners, Subsidized by Government Is Debated at Ottawa; Difference in Wages Pointed Out

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—Steamship subsidies will come again under the spotlight of parliamentary debate, according to notice given by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader.

Mr. Bennett, recently returned from a world cruise, said yesterday he would discuss the subject when Transport Department estimates for payment of subsidies are brought down in the House.

Subsidies, one angle of which occupied the House all yesterday, are expected to be debated again when a report is made on a request that the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company employ more Canadians on its Canada-Japan liners.

Yesterday the House debated a resolution by Thomas Reid, Liberal, New Westminster, calling for cancellation of subsidies to the Canadian Pacific for its services between B.C. ports and the Orient unless the company conforms to last year's recommendations of a House committee. The recommendations asked that subsidized Canadian steamship lines hire Canadian deck crews.

WITHDREW RESOLUTION

Mr. Reid withdrew his resolution on assurance of Hon. Norman Rogers, Labor Minister, the government would investigate the circumstances. For four years Mr. Reid has labored to force Canadian Pacific liners subsidized by the Dominion to employ more Canadian seamen. Last year the committee on industrial and international relations made an exhaustive study of his complaints.

Mr. Reid yesterday submitted a resolution charging the C.P.R. had ignored an "order of Parliament" and no more subsidies should be paid until it complied. He agreed later the action taken last year did not constitute an "order of Parliament" but a request from the House of Commons (Turn to Page 18, Col. 6)

GEN. O. MARIOTTI DIES

Addis Ababa, Feb. 4 (Associated Press).—Gen. Oreste Mariotti, sixty-four, who commanded the Italian column which crossed the Danakil Desert in the advance on Makale in the Ethiopian campaign, died today.

With the exception of voting by longshoremen in the Northwest, where severe weather delayed distribution of ballots, the seven unions had completed balloting on peace proposals, and the results were piling up here.

Reports indicated the marine firemen might not ratify their tentative agreement with offshore operators, but such action will not prolong the strike, for the firemen agreed to arbitrate issues in dispute.

Other agreements appeared to have been accepted by big margins. In some ports the voting was nearly unanimous.

AT HONOLULU

MRS. V. RITHET PASSES AWAY

Well-known Resident Succumbs in Jubilee Hospital Today

Mrs. Velda W. Rithet of 555 Newport Avenue, Oak Bay, passed away this morning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, where she had been a patient since January 26.

Mrs. Rithet was born in Howe's Cave, New York, fifty-one years ago, and had been a resident of this city for thirty years. She was a keen and popular member of the Royal Victoria Golf Club, and was well known as a charming hostess for many years.

She is survived by her widower, John A. Rithet, and two daughters, Mrs. Frank Skillings and Miss Josephine Rithet of Victoria.

Private funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. Rev. A. de B. Owen will officiate and interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Longshoremen Await Back-to-work Call

Nearly 40,000 U.S. Pacific Coast Workers Expect to Get Back on the Job Shortly; Long-idle Ships Show Signs of Life

Associated Press

San Francisco, Feb. 4.—Nearly 40,000 United States Pacific Coast maritime strikers, considering their record-breaking walkout at an end, awaited a back-to-work summons today, and the joint strike committee expected to meet at noon, presumably to issue the call.

With the exception of voting by longshoremen in the Northwest, where severe weather delayed distribution of ballots, the seven unions had completed balloting on peace proposals, and the results were piling up here.

Reports indicated the marine firemen might not ratify their tentative agreement with offshore operators, but such action will not prolong the strike, for the firemen agreed to arbitrate issues in dispute.

Dikes Watched In Flood Area

Maximum Strain on Ohio River at Cairo, Ill., May Last Two Weeks

Associated Press

Cairo, Ill., Feb. 4.—Cairo's walled-in flood fighters, holding some claim on victory, but still on guard against disaster, entrenched themselves today for watch duty that may last nearly two weeks.

Engineers of the United States army charted the Ohio River peak at less than a quarter-inch above today's stage, but Col. R. G. Powell, chief of the Ohio River division, said "the river is spread over so much territory the present flood stage may be here for twelve to thirteen days."

At 59.62 feet, the water was less than six inches from the top of the concrete seawall here. A temporary bulwark on top of the concrete stood three feet higher.

Another day of dredging brought five more levee workers' bodies from the spillway downstream in southern Missouri, raising to twenty the death toll of a Saturday night large accident.

LOOK FOR BREAKS

With the Mississippi holding a level about stationary, more than three feet below the top of the fifty-one-foot levee at New Madrid, Mo., that area's battle against inundation resolved itself into a lookout for leaks or breaks.

From Cairo, where the Ohio flows into the Mississippi, to Hickman, Ky., 140 coastguard boats stood ready for rescue work.

At Memphis, Tenn., the tide of battle against record flood crests ran favorably along the upper Mississippi, but engineers cautioned that the fight to save the valley from untold disaster was not yet won.

They discussed the situation arising from the refusal of the employees to accept the majority report of the Maclean conciliation board, which recommended restoration of part of the 10 per cent wage cut. The men have demanded the whole deduction be wiped out this year.

NEW NEGOTIATIONS

Details of today's discussion between the Labor Minister and the railway president were not made known, but it was assumed they were considering on what basis negotiations could be resumed.

The conciliation board split two to one, Mr. Justice A. K. Maclean, the chairman, joining with W. Sanford Evans of Winnipeg, the companies' nominee, in advocating gradual reduction of the cut to 7 per cent by November 1, together with further wage benefits if the railway earnings should improve sufficiently.

Fred Bancroft of Oakville, Ont., men's representative on the board, held a 4 per cent should be returned on February 1, and the rest of the cut restored by November 1.

MINISTER'S EFFORTS

The Industrial Disputes Investigation Act does not provide any further step after a conciliation board report is rejected except the general provision the Minister of Labor may set as appears best in efforts to reach settlement.

MEET IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Feb. 4.—Representatives of seventeen railway running trade unions may meet here Monday to consider reports handed down by the railway conciliation board, it was learned today from Howard B. Chase, chairman of a committee of the unions, now conducting a strike ballot.

Reports could not be confirmed that the unions would ratify the majority report of Fred Bancroft, who suggested settlement of the wage disputes by gradual increases which would wipe out a current 10 per cent decrease by November 1.

"I can't confirm the report they will urge adoption of the Bancroft report," said Mr. Chase. "We are certainly going ahead with the strike ballot."

Montreal, Feb. 4.—An extensive police search for Claude Belair, wanted for questioning in connection with the violent death of "Pit" Vandal, sixty, in a lonely fishing shack on Ile Charron near here, ended today when the frozen body of Belair was found less than a quarter of a mile from the shack.

Sharp Fighting On Spain's South Coast

Loyalist Leaders Say Their Troops Holding at All Points on Malaga Front; Insurgents Report Town of Ojen Taken

Associated Press

Valencia, Spain, Feb. 4.—Government defenders of Malaga, on the south coast of Spain, counter-attacked advancing Fascist troops today near Alora, killing many insurgent soldiers, general staff headquarters announced.

Through the fighting sector on the Mediterranean coast, the government forces held their positions in the face of land, sea and air assaults, government commanders reported.

An insurgent submarine off Castell de Ferro, east of Motril, bombarded the government lines, but caused only slight damage.

Five Socialist pursuit planes on patrol duty around Antequera were reported to have brought down two or three insurgent bombers flying to the front. Three other government pilots broke up Fascist cavalry formations near Marbella, official reports said.

Coal Competition Declared Needed

BLOWER FURNACES

Dr. Tory explained that introduction of the blower furnace, that is a forced-draft furnace with a fixed grate, had made necessary a small size anthracite with a low-ash-fusing point. Welsh anthracite had until recently been the principal available fuel of this special type.

The demand for it had increased rapidly as the use of the blower type of furnace increased. Hence the scramble to secure control of the source of supply as neither Scotch nor United States anthracite, the chief competing fuels, but with high fusion-point, were suitable, and hence they were not competitive.

"Unless greater freedom of purchase of this particular type of coal from Wales is made available to importers other than the Webster group, it is very important that the channels of trade with other countries producing low-ash-fusion-point anthracite should be kept open.

"It is of equal importance that importation should come directly from the country of origin and not as in the past through agencies already controlling competitive supplies in another country."

OPEN COMPETITION

The surest way to protect the consumer was to maintain free and open competition and to this end "the continued enforcement of the Com-Wines Investigation Act is recommended," he said.

Co-operatives such as are now operating in other countries should have encouragement, Dr. Tory said, but joint stock companies should be prevented from using the name "co-operative" when that does not describe their real nature.

MUNICIPAL ACTION

Work accomplished under the Combines Investigation Act to prevent price fixing should be translated into action by municipalities, the commission declared.

"The licensing of dealers, the prevention of short-weighting, the suppression of fraudulent advertising, the requirements of an adequate and correct description of the coal and delivery slips, are within their authority," he said.

LENGTHY HEARINGS

The report, which runs to 274 pages, is the product of thirty-eight days of public hearings which began in Montreal July 8, 1936, and extended to Toronto, Quebec City, Halifax, Saint John and Ottawa. During the inquiry, 106 witnesses were examined. A shift in sources of supply for Canada's 3,800,000-ton annual requirement is noted in Dr. Tory's conclusions. In 1928, 85.8 per cent of anthracite came from the United States and only 14.1 per cent from Great Britain. Last year Great Britain supplied 37.4 per cent of the demand and imports from the United States dropped to 47.3 per cent. Other countries supplied 15.3 per cent.

IN-MONTREAL DISTRICT

"During 1933-34," according to the report, "the combining of companies of the Webster group—the Canadian Import Company, the British Coal Corporation, the F. P. Weaver Coal Company and the Hart & Adair Coal Company—because of special arrangements with the two major sources of supply in Wales ... the Amalgamated Anthracite Collieries and the T. T. Pascoe Company—sources which control between 80 and 90 per cent of the Welsh anthracite suitable for the Canadian market—had almost complete monopoly of Welsh anthracite in the Montreal district, and, by special arrangement with the T. T. Pascoe Company, of German anthracite, also a low-ash-fusion-point coal, as well.

"During the years mentioned, the group imported an average of 80 per cent of all Welsh anthracite for the Montreal market. Scotch, Welsh and United States anthracite competed on equal terms for the non-blower market.

"In 1935 this control was somewhat relaxed when one independent company secured coal from T. T. Pascoe Company, and was still further relaxed in 1936 when German coal was freely offered in Canada at reduced prices, and in addition Belgian and Indo-Chinese anthracite, both low-ash-fusion-point coals, came on the market in considerable volume."

The purchase by Senator Lorne Webster, Montreal, of the interest of R. G. Lane in the firm of Lane & Robitaille, through Class Securities of London, England, gave the Canadian Import Company, the parent company of the Webster group, a complete monopoly of Welsh anthracite in Quebec.

"This control was greatly enhanced," Dr. Tory continued, "by the fact that the only wharf space in the inner harbor and the only special machinery for handling coal were also in the possession of the Canadian Import Company. Since 1933, no overseas anthracite has been sold in Quebec except that imported by the Canadian Import Company."

"The joint operation of these companies was intended to control, and in fact did effectively control, through their affiliations with the Amalgamated Anthracite Collieries and the T. T. Pascoe Company, both the importation and sale of Welsh anthracite in Montreal and in a lesser degree in Toronto.

"During the years 1933-34-35 they secured control of the importation of German anthracite as well. The claims made during the inquiry that in the years mentioned above Welsh anthracite could be purchased freely by any competent importer from independent sources is not borne out by the evidence submitted."

Dr. Tory noted Senator Webster had resigned from the companies in 1936 and might not be familiar with details of operations since, nevertheless as the investments in the companies were solely investments made by him for himself or his family, "he must be cognizant of and have the final authority in all major transactions."

In the past seven years prices for domestic sales of coal had been downward and small sizes upward, the commissioner found.

PRICE LEAD

Dr. Tory found no evidence of price-fixing arrangements. There was a habit of long-term contracts, he said, for the large importer or dealer to set the price and nearly everyone followed suit.

"The habit," he declared, "seems to carry with it the implication that anyone who breaks the price is unethical."

JAPAN DIET IS SUSPENDED

Emperor Issues Order When Parties Refuse to Give New Cabinet a Week

Tokyo, Feb. 4.—Emperor Hirohito today indirectly rebuked the political parties by issuing a rescript postponing the Diet until next Wednesday after the parties had refused a voluntary adjournment.

The government's request for a later session in order to have time for budget revision was refused by the parties, which took this method of expressing their disapproval of General Senjuro Hayashi's cabinet. The Emperor also sanctioned withdrawal by the government of fifty-one legislative bills, including the budget introduced in the Diet by the late cabinet of Premier Koki Hiroto.

Pattullo Said to Be Seeking Loan

B.C. Premier, in Ottawa, Today, Will Have Talks With Several Federal Ministers in Next Few Days

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—Premier Pattullo of British Columbia, a visitor in Ottawa today, said he would "discuss a number of matters of importance with Dominion authorities."

The Premier, who arrived yesterday from Montreal, will be here for a week and is expected to see several federal ministers during that time. It was reported he was seeking a loan in the open market.

CHANGES IN CONSTITUTION
Mr. Pattullo issued a statement in which he said: "The many ramifications of modern economics and social conditions make essential closer contact and co-operation between Federal and provincial authorities. These conditions indicate the desirability of amendments to the constitution which events every day accentuate."

"I believe the recent reference to the Privy Council of a number of measures as proposed by the Canadian Parliament will be provocative of good. It should clear the atmosphere and make evident that provincial authorities in maintaining their rights of jurisdiction under the terms of the B.N.A. Act are hardly deserving of suggestion that they have acted in a small parochial way, rather than in the public interest. Stretching the meaning of the terms of the constitution to suit individual inclinations is not the way to serve best the public good."

FOR ALL CANADA
"I believe there are matters in which federal authority can function more efficaciously in the interests of all Canada than the provinces acting separately."

"On the other hand, in a country as spacious as Canada, a single set of conditions may not be and is not in many instances common to all. Therefore it is better to define anew respective jurisdictions so the provinces and the Dominion may each function without infringing on the other's jurisdiction," he concluded.

MAN IN JAIL ENDS HIS LIFE

Auburn, Wash., Police, Who Held J. F. Johnson, Doubt Links With Slaying

Auburn, Wash., Feb. 4.—John F. Johnson, forty, held since last Friday for investigation in connection with Tacoma's Charles F. Mattson kidnapping-slaying, was found strangled to death in his city jail cell today.

Police Chief Ed. Norris found the body about 8:15 a.m., lying on the cell floor, a nail attached to the cot and around the neck. Other prisoners said they had heard no struggling and no outcries during the night.

ARRESTED IN "JUNGLES"

Johnson was arrested in the "Hobo jungles" here Friday when some of the 100 other transients there complained to police the man had acted queerly and they thought he might know something about the kidnapping-slaying. He denied all knowledge of the affair, but officers took samples of his fingerprints and handwriting and sent them to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Chief Norris and other officers said they doubted if Johnson had any knowledge of the Tacoma kidnapping, but that he apparently was mentally ill.

Emergency crews checked boilers long cold. Cargo holds were inspected. Smoke belched from funnels of some ships preparing to move into docks from anchorage.

BACK TO SAME SHIPS

Employers and union leaders agreed that insofar as possible crews would be returned to the vessels on which they were employed at the time the strike was called. This, it was pointed out, would assure men being assigned to ships with which they were familiar.

San Francisco Bay holds seventy-nine of the strike-bound vessels which, when operating, give employment to nearly 11,000 maritime workers.

Some examples of the overwhelming back-to-work trend of the voting came from San Pedro, where eighty-two ships, the largest number in any United States coast port, are tied up. Longshoremen there ratified their agreement by a vote of 2,136 to 134.

Automobiles were using the sidewalk in the "Dartmouth" at noon today when two street cars, stalled side by side, blocked the north side of the road and a string of cars from town monopolized the south side.

FOUR DIE IN BRITISH PLANE

Wreckage of Machine Operated by London Newspaper Found in Scotland

Canadian Press

Newton-Stewart, Scotland, Feb. 4.—An airplane owned by a London newspaper was found by a shepherd today near here, wrecked and burned, its four occupants dead.

The plane, carrying two newspapermen and a photographer, in addition to the pilot, had been unreported since it left Glasgow, Scotland, early Tuesday, en route to Liverpool.

The men had been making a survey course for the air route recently suggested by a parliamentary committee. One of the newspapermen was Harold Pemberton, the well-known writer.

Pemberton, a son of Sir Max Pemberton, novelist, was motoring and aviation correspondent for The London Daily Express. He served in France during the Great War, returning with the rank of major, and reported the Ethiopian and Spanish wars for The Express. He was forty-seven.

The others were: Reginald Charles Wesley, twenty-four, an Express photographer, whose last pictures were published the day before his death, who formerly piloted the "Dawn Express," the regular morning commercial plane from Croydon to Paris; and T. H. Philpott, aviation radio expert and chief wireless operator for Lord Beaverbrook.

They declared the morale of the defending troops was high and discipline "perfect." General Emil Kieber, naturalized Canadian hero of the defence of Madrid, was reported to be engaged in defence preparations in the southern city.

OJEN CHANGES HANDS

Gibraltar, Feb. 4.—Fascist and Socialist troops, contending for occupation of the southern seaport of Malaga, clashed today in fierce fighting along the Mediterranean coast. Several truckloads of wounded arrived at La Linea and San Roque, where the sound of gunfire could be faintly heard.

The wounded soldiers said "a fierce battle is raging, with the government troops defending their positions desperately against a major Fascist attack."

They declared many Socialist government militiamen had fallen in the defence of Ojen and during fighting in the hills surrounding the government fortifications.

PLANES FROM MOROCCO

Two squadrons of nine bombers were reported simultaneously to have left Spanish Morocco to join in the attack. Six planes took the air from Melilla, while the other three went from Ceuta, just across the narrow Mediterranean from the besieged city.

Every available motorbus and automobile in the area was commandeered to carry reinforcements to the front lines.

All doctors and nurses were ordered to the zone. It was reported not one doctor was left in La Linea, a city of 60,000 inhabitants.

POPE ALMOST FREE OF PAIN

Associated Press

Vatican City, Feb. 4.—Pope Pius concluded his second month of serious illness today in almost complete freedom from the agonizing attacks of pain which had sapped his strength a fortnight ago.

While his general condition was unchanged, his physician, Dr. Amintore Milani, has succeeded in alleviating the local symptoms of his illness to an extent that surprises even the most optimistic of the Pontiff's intimates.

section of west-end Cincinnati destroyed two factories early today with a loss semi-officially estimated at between $250,000 and $300,000. Furniture destroyed in one of the plants included some that had been stored there by residents of the neighborhood whose homes were inundated in Cincinnati's greatest flood.

B. Richardson of Nanaimo Passes

Nanaimo, Feb. 4.—Benjamin Richardson of Extension, passed away Tuesday night at his residence. He was the first white boy born in Nanaimo, his birthdate being January 8, 1855. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Abraham John Richardson, pioneer English settlers of the district. His wife predeceased him in March, 1936. He is survived by three sons, Abraham and John (of Gabriola Island), and William of Extension; one daughter, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Vancouver; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Walter Wap, San Francisco, and Mrs. H. Brighton, Nanaimo, and seven grandchildren.

Irrigation engineering was understood and practiced by the ancient Babylonians more than 5,000 years ago.

Here's One Proof

A friend whose work has been around the mining industry, says the best recommendation he knows of for Pacific Milk are the thousands of empty cans he sees in almost every "camp," and the empty Pacific Milk cases in use as cupboards, filling cases, seats, etc., around mining "prospects."

D. STEPHENSON PASSES AWAY

Headed Nanaimo Branch of B.C. Police for Thirty-five Years

Vancouver, Feb. 4.—David Stephenson, seventy-eight, one-time member of the Metropolitan Police Force in England and head of the Nanaimo detachment of the British Columbia Police for thirty-five years, died in hospital here last night.

Born at Rock Island, Ill., Mr. Stephenson moved to England with his parents in 1874 and four years later became a member of the Metropolitan Police Force. In his one year of service with that force he served several times as guard for King Edward VII, then Prince of Wales, and for Queen Victoria.

Leaving the Metropolitan force, he came to British Columbia and joined the British Columbia Police in 1881 and took over charge of the Nanaimo force, a position which he held until his retirement in 1916, when he moved to Departure Bay, B.C.

Surviving are the widow and a daughter, Nora, at Departure Bay, and another daughter, Mrs. William Gladholm, in Nanaimo.

Albert W. Stephenson, deputy warden of the Nelson jail, is a son.

Mrs. A. E. Fowler Dies at Nanaimo

Nanaimo, Feb. 4.—Mrs. Alice Elizabeth Fowler, wife of Joseph Fowler of Qualicum Beach, passed away in Nanaimo Hospital early Tuesday after a brief illness.

Besides her husband, she leaves three children, Beverly, Joan and Roger, also her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley E. Coleman of Calgary, Alta.

Cows Burned In Barn Fire

Nanaimo, Feb. 4.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the barn owned by Edward Cassidy on the Island Highway, in Cedar district, Tuesday evening. Three cows were destroyed, besides a large quantity of hay and feed.

ALBERTA TEACHERS' SALARIES

Edmonton, Feb. 4. (Canadian Press).—The average rural teacher's salary in Alberta is $722, and "it is possible for a Calgary family on relief to draw more than that amount," P. G. Davies of Clyde, declared at the annual convention of the Alberta School Trustees' Association here yesterday.

Nationalists Walk Out of Assembly

Capetown, Feb. 4.—Nationalist members, with the exception of two who supported the government, walked out of the South African House of Assembly yesterday when a vote was taken on third reading of a measure giving effect to the abdication of King Edward VIII.

There are twenty-three Nationalists in the House of 150. Only four votes were cast against third reading of the Abdication Act, those by members of the Dominion Party who opposed the bill on the grounds it embraced the doctrine of the divisibility of the crown.

IMMIGRANTS TOTALED 11,643

Canada Accepted 3.2 Per Cents More in 1936 Than in 1935

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—Immigration into Canada during the calendar year 1936 totaled 11,643 persons, an increase of 3.2 per cent over the previous year, the Department of Mines and Resources reported yesterday.

Immigrants from the United Kingdom numbered 2,197, an increase of 4.5 per cent, while the number from United States decreased from 5,291 in 1935 to 4,876 last year.

An increase from 631 to 817 in immigrants of northern European races was noted. Hebrew immigrants numbered 440, a decrease from 560 in 1935. Polish immigration into the Dominion decreased from 405 to 378, while Ruthenians increased from 476 to 801. Slovaks increased from 400 to 562. Few Canadians returned to Canada from the United States during 1936, the survey shows, with 6,378 returning in 1935 compared with 5,168 last year.

Norway Is Asking $100,000 From Spain

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—The Norwegian Foreign Office yesterday demanded $100,000 indemnity from the Spanish government for the bombing of the Norwegian steamship Guineat at the port of Seville. Four seamen were killed in the bombing last December 8.

Find Haven Under Red Cross

The Red Cross flag flew over relief stations in a dozen states of the flood area and thousands, including the three Cincinnati mothers and their bewildered children shown above, found it a welcome haven of refuge from raging waters which had flooded their homes.

Australia Pact Not in Sight

Negotiations Between Canada and Southern Dominion on Trade Continue

Canberra, Feb. 4.—Termination of the Australian-Canadian trade treaty negotiations has not yet been sighted. It was learned today, although the Canadian delegation headed by Hon. W. D. Loefer, Minister of Trade and Commerce, has arranged to depart February 18 at the latest.

The discussions have resulted in the negotiators adjourning indefinitely to enable each party to assess the probable value of the concessions which each has offered.

The Australians first submitted claims for additional trading concessions, especially for dried fruits, oranges and wines. While the Canadians indicated they were prepared to grant increased facilities for the marketing of Australian exports, they were not prepared to go as far as the Australians desired toward adjusting the trade situation.

SAY BALANCE NATURAL

The Canadian representatives argued the balance of trade in their favor was a natural one, largely because Canadian industry had developed to the point at which it was able to provide cheaply and efficiently a large range of manufactures which Australia required.

Mr. Loefer emphasized the trade balance for the current year was likely to swing towards Australia owing to large Canadian purchases of wool. He also pointed out that some of the principal Australian exports—such as butter and cheese—were competitive with Canadian industries and that therefore the scope of any increased quota for Australia was limited.

Actor Wrongly Named In Case, Says Letter

Los Angeles, Feb. 4.—Pierson M. Hall, United States attorney, received a letter yesterday from a man claiming to be the Frank Billings whom Mrs. Violet Wells Norton named as the father of her daughter and sought to identify as Clark Gable.

The letter, unsigned and bearing a Tacoma, Wash. postmark, said: "The lady is right. Frank Billings is the father of her child. But I am the man. Also am a perfect double for C. G."

Mrs. Norton, from Winnipeg, and Jack L. Smith, private detective, are under indictment here charged with the use of the mails to defraud by trying to force the movie actor to support the thirteen-year-old girl.

Mrs. Norton said she knew Gable in England as Billings. The actor denied he had ever been in England.

The Mrs. Norton-Jack Smith trial is listed for March 1.

SOVIET TO PLANT 235,000,000 ACRES

Moscow, Feb. 4.—Schedules for planting 235,000,000 acres of Soviet farm land this spring were published yesterday evening.

About 88 per cent of the area will be planted by the Kolkhozes (collective farms), 11 per cent by the Sovkhozes (state farms), and less than 1 per cent by individual peasants.

The schedule provides measures to guarantee the high-quality of farm products. Semi-official sources declared the coming year should see unprecedented development of the speed-up movement and an increase in all harvests, especially grain.

London, Feb. 4. (Canadian Press).—British property owners should be insured against bombing damage, according to Sir John Lorden, Presiding at the annual meeting of the National Federation of Property Owners and Ratepayers. Sir John said that if a fleet of bombing aircraft should appear over some of Britain's towns, some of the delegates present would go into bankruptcy court if no insurance scheme was evolved.

Marketing Act Case Quashed

B.C. Supreme Court Throws Out Conviction of Lulu Island Dairyman

Vancouver, Feb. 4.—Mr. Justice A. M. Manson in the B.C. Supreme Court yesterday quashed the conviction of James Hassell, Lulu Island dairyman, for carrying on business a year ago without a license from the British Columbia Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board.

Hassell had been convicted April 30, 1936, by Magistrate O. R. McQueen and fined $100. He attacked the conviction by writ of certiorari and the case had been adjourned from time to time pending judgment of the Dominion Natural Products Marketing Act.

Hassell's counsel contended the provincial statute was interrelated in the case with the Dominion act which the Privy Council last week held to be ultra vires. He also claimed the license fee demanded from Hassell was an indirect tax and, therefore, invalid and that there was no power under the provincial act in question which authorized the board to license dairyman.

Counsel for the board consented to quashing of the conviction, putting forward no opposition to the appeal.

MINE DEATHS

Geneva, Feb. 4. (Associated Press).—More fatalities occurred in United States coal mines in 1935 than in those of any other country, according to statistics compiled by the International Labor Office and made public yesterday. The figures, incorporated in a report of mine safety, disclosed deaths per 1,000 workers in United States mines averaged 2.18.

INFLUENZA TOLL

London, Feb. 4. (Canadian Press from Havas).—Last week's death toll of 1,155, issued yesterday, showed that the influenza epidemic in Great Britain is still severe. Reports for the previous week had listed 1,137 victims.

“Mrs. Grundy”
Over 400
Years

Quaint Old Books
On Etiquette
Date From 1542

Canadian Press
New York, Feb. 4.—Four centuries of “Mrs. Grundy” are covered in a collection of books assembled by Columbia University. The collection is dedicated to Mrs. Grundy, that “personification of tyrannical public opinion in matters of conventional proprieties.”

Table manners, travel etiquette,
“gentle and ingenious conversation,” correct salutations and the proper occupations for young girls are dealt with in the seventy-five volumes exhibited, the earliest published in 1542
CREATED IN 1798

Mrs. Grundy was a character created by the dramatist Thomas Morton in his play, “Speed and Plough,” which was produced at Covent Garden, London, in 1798. She never appeared on the stage, but was persistently quoted on matters of social propriety.

Long before the invention of Mrs.
Grundy, however, etiquette books were in circulation throughout Europe. From Venice of the middle 16th century comes a handbook called “The Prescribed Occupations of a Gentleman,” which contains strict regulations on the type of dress to be worn at all functions, elaborating particularly on the cut of the coat.

Courtesies are warned not to engage in occupations such as cards, dice and bagatelle, but rather to be industrious and diligent.

Princess Chikhmatoff to cancel the arrangements she had made to leave immediately for South Africa to be with her mother. Mr. and Mrs. R. P.
Butchart left a few weeks ago, with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pendray, via South America and Africa for Europe, and their boat only reached Cap-

HORSE DIVIDES FAMILY

Rochester, N.Y. (Canadian Press).
—The eight heirs of the late Mrs.
Sarah Lawson, were evenly divided in a dispute over an estate in which the chief time was a twenty-eight-year-old horse. Four brothers claimed the horse for their own; another brother and three sisters asserted it was rightfully theirs.

When Surrogate Joseph M. Feely, unable to effect a compromise, set
February 3 as the date for the next hearing, the attorney for the sister faction protested: “His honor is tempting fate, for the estate may die in the meantime.”

On Graveyard Search For Fortune

London Woman In Century-old Fight For Estates

For five years a woman who believes her family is of royal descent has been searching Oxfordshire graveyards and libraries for clues which will prove her claim to estates which include four villages.

She is Mrs. L. Shepherd of Garraff Lane, Wandsworth, London.

Her family have been fighting for the fortune to which they believe they are entitled for 100 years. Her great-uncle ruined himself by his attempts to establish his claims.

Mrs. Shepherd, who keeps a wireless shop, claims she is in direct line of inheritance. She spends most of her spare time in motorizing to Oxfordshire with her son, Lawrence.

"We have often gone without our dinner to pay for the petrol," she told a Daily Mirror representative. "Last year we made more than 100 visits to Oxford."

"We have scraped every graveyard in every churchyard in Oxford and within a radius of six miles. Reading old documents in the Bodleian library has occupied long hours."

"A lawyer told me the quickest way to bring the matter to a legal test would be to damage the property."

"I hired two men to knock down a wall and let the occupant of the property my name and address. But I was never summoned for the damage."

"Another time I made an hour's speech on the village green, proving to the villagers that my mother was the rightful lady of the manor. Again no steps were taken against me."

"I mean to continue my struggle to regain the family fortune till I die, and then my ghost will haunt the place for which I fought."

"Lawyers tell me that if my ancestors had shown half the grit that I have done they could have won the case."

Masquerade Ball At Arctic Post

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Feb. 4.—Preparations are being made for one of the major social events of the north, a grand masquerade ball which will be held at Fort Smith, N.W.T., next Monday night.

That it may have all the color and glamor of a large city masquerade, fancy dress costumes are being flown in from Edmonton. Large packages of colorful costumes were stowed in the cabins of two planes which left here today.

Residents of the post, including Canadian Mounted Police, Royal Canadian Signals, Department of Interior officials, traders and trappers will be present.

Court Custody For Child Bride

Twelve-year-old Girl Separated From Her Husband

Associated Press
Watertown, N.Y., Feb. 4.—A twelve-year-old girl bride of a factory hand, said good-bye to her husband in juvenile court yesterday and, temporarily at least, was placed in custody of Miss Angie Kellogg Jefferson, county children's agent.

She was taken immediately to Mercy Hospital.

Tears came to the eyes of nineteen-year-old Stanley Backus, the girl's husband, when she was led from the courtroom.

"I wouldn't want to be separated from Stanley for anything," she declared. "I am too happy, and I want people to mind their own business."

District Attorney Carl J. Hynes of Jefferson County intimated he would look into the union, although he said he had not determined on a course of action.

The state law, he pointed out, classifies as a misdemeanor the marriage of any girl under fourteen years of age, even though her parents consent.

Any attempt to separate the mature-looking, 110-pound Leona and the husband she married at Carthage on January 15 will be resisted by her mother, Mrs. Joseph J. Roshia, who said she was a bride at sixteen.

"They are very happily married, and I want to see them live together," she said.

Parents of the groom also sanctioned the marriage.

Mildew can be removed from clothes by soaking them in butter-milk, then hanging them in the sun.

B.C. Pioneer Passes at Ripe Age

Late Mrs. Allison Was Friend Of James Douglas

Another link with the early days of British Columbia was severed with the death in Vancouver of Mrs. Susan L. Allison, "mother of the Similkameen," who died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alice Perkins, 2544 West Eighth, in her 92nd year.

Her husband owned the townsite of Princeton, and Mrs. Allison lived in the district and at Westbank from the day she arrived as a bride in 1867 until she removed to Vancouver in 1928.

FIRST ON TRAIL
Courageous, cheery and bright, she was mother, nurse and confidante of the district for more than half a century.

Mrs. Allison was the first white woman to go on horseback up the famous Allison trail from Hope to Princeton in 1867.

Born in Colombo, Ceylon, daughter of Stratton Mohr, she came to British Columbia via Panama, arriving at Hope on her fifteenth birthday. The family brought the first piano to the B.C. mainland. With her mother she opened a little school in Hope, but within a few months had married John F. Allison, a veteran of the California travelling the Hope-Princeton trail as a bride.

A FRIEND OF DOUGLAS
A woman of culture, she made her home at Princeton, the stopping place for all the notables who visited the interior. At the time all the travel into the Okanagan was by way of Hope and Princeton. She was a friend of Governor Douglas and sister-in-law of Lieutenant-Governor Dewdney.

Mrs. Allison made an intensive study of Indian folk-lore and contributed extensively to London journals on their derivation. She was author of a published narrative poem "Incumbent," which had considerable vogue, has written a history of the Similkameen, was frequent contributor to newspapers and literary journals, and boasted an intimate knowledge of B.C. horticulture.

Until three years ago, Mrs. Allison was guest of honor at annual gatherings of Similkameen and Okanagan pioneers. Fond of the outdoors, she rode horseback while in her eighties.

FUNERAL IN PRINCETON
Mrs. Allison leaves eleven children, sixty-five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Her sons are Edgar M. Sardis, George, Portlinton, Alfred E. and Harold A. of Princeton. Her daughters

Women's Day At Catholic Congress

Solemn Scenes At Eucharistic Rally In Manila

Associated Press
Manila, Feb. 5.—Thousands of Roman Catholic women, from all parts of the world paid tribute today to Christ in the Blessed Sacrament in the second day of the thirty-third International Eucharistic Congress.

The congress was opened with an apostolic injunction to spur missionary work in the Far East.

Today was the women's day in the great religious demonstration. Before the sun shot its first dazzling rays over the tropical mountains of the Philippines, the Catholic women gathered on the far-flung lawns of Luneta Park on the shores of Manila Bay.

They partook of Holy Communion at pontifical mass celebrated by Bishop Paul Yuen, of Nanking, China.

MANY NATIVES
Predominating in the vast throng were Filipino women, clad in their native dresses and wearing long black lacy scarves over their heads.

The programme of the day was opened at 4 a.m., with masses in many churches. These continued for two and one-half hours.

The general congress devoted the morning to national and sectional meetings in churches and chapels throughout the city.

The women concluded their programme at the park during the evening with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and congregational singing of the congress hymn.

100,000 AT MASS
Yesterday, civil officials estimated 100,000 devout Filipinos and foreign pilgrims massed in Luneta Park to participate in opening ceremonies before a great, outdoor eucharistic altar on the shore of Manila Bay.

Philippine and Chinese priests, mingling with pilgrims from all parts of the world, illustrated the Far-Eastern character of the four-day congress.

The papal brief, serving as credentials for his personal representative, Dennis Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia, said "the strength of the missionary must spring from the most august sacrament which binds him to his Divine King."

After joining in a mighty chorus of the congress hymn, the massed thousands silently dropped to their knees in devotion when the Blessed Sacrament was elevated at the end of the day.

Several handsome prizes have been donated and will be given in the popular tombola fashion and presented to the winners by Mrs. G. H. Barnard, first president of the club.

Tea will be served at 4 o'clock and the ladies who will pour are: Mrs. Gordon Sloan, Mrs. Andrew McGavin, Mrs. W. S. Wilson, Mrs. P. B. Scurrah, Miss K. Agnew, Mrs. C. C. Spofford, Mrs. F. Hyndman, Mrs. Gordon Hunter, Mrs. J. S. Plaskett, Mrs. H. T. Goodland, Mrs. Donald McArdle and Mrs. H. O. English. The members of the executive will be at the entrance of the ballroom from 1:30 p.m. to accommodate those players wishing to obtain their tickets early.

Marlborough House Treasures Filmed

London, Feb. 2.—Marlborough House was recently dazzled by flashlights as cameramen photographed some of its treasures.

Queen Mary gave her permission and the films are to be used in a cinema being made in aid of the King George V national memorial fund for the provision of playing fields throughout the country.

Treasures photographed included the late King George's famous collection of snuff-boxes, some jade and crystal, and Queen Mary's writing table.

Companies Act Changes Studied

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—No new amendments to the Companies Act are planned at this session of Parliament, Hon. Fernand Rinfret, Secretary of State, told the House of Commons yesterday in answer to a question.

He said negotiations were proceeding between the provinces and the Dominion looking to a uniform Companies Act. Sub-committee law officers might be able to report to a Dominion-provincial conference next fall recommendations for a draft uniform act.

What Is Correct?

What should be done with the napkin after dinner? It should be put on the table at one's place exactly as it is—not folded again, nor thrown on the chair. Napkin rings are never used at any formal meal. They are used only when the size of the family makes it necessary for economy's sake.

Is it necessary for a man to ask his hostess to dance? Yes, unless he does not dance, in which case he may talk to her for a while instead. To ignore one's hostess entirely is an unforgivable rudeness. This also applies to a guest of honor.

May elbows be rested on the table? Yes, but a certain amount of discretion should be used. It is now allowable to put an elbow on the table when leaning forward to talk with someone. However, elbows should not be used as a permanent prop throughout dinner, and one should never lean on an elbow while actually eating.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

FRANK EXPLANATIONS SHOULD ANSWER CHILD'S QUESTIONS

None of us, however glib, is always prepared to say just the right thing when our children ask us point-blank questions about the "facts of life."

Fortunately for the modern parent, conversation about the coming of babies is so frank and non-chalant that most of us have lost our self-consciousness about the subject.

But there are still plenty of questions which tax our knowledge and determination to be "matter-of-fact." We flounder about endeavoring to treat with courage subjects which our own education has made us feel are too delicate for discussion.

One mother said that she was well aware that she ought to be approaching the subject, but hadn't the faintest idea how to start, or what to say. The chances are great that when her child approached the subject herself, with the naive curiosity of four or five years, the mother evaded the question because "That little thing—what would she understand?"

Yet the child's inquisitiveness is indicative enough that the time is ripe for some explanation, whatever her age. It is never in some far-off day that it will be easier, the time is right when the question is asked.

While no one can put exact words into a parent's mouth, or do more than warn her not to appear embarrassed or upset by the questions, it is true that the simplest general rule to follow is to answer the question truthfully. Remember, the truth is never shameful. It is only what we ourselves make of it that gives it an aura of illicit discourse.

We need not tell a child all we know at any time. The child could not absorb it. But endeavour to answer each question and be ready to repeat the same answer, no matter how often the same question is asked.

Bit by bit, without embarrassment, the child will build up the knowledge that will become explicable as experience clarifies it.

Our leader on "Telling Small Children the Facts of Life," may be had for a self-addressed and three-cent stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Eldrid, care of the Your Baby and Mine department of this newspaper.

NO FIGURES ON BOARD BUDGET

Saanich School Trustees Discuss Estimates in Camera

Until such time as the Saanich School Board has completed compilation of the current year's estimates and presented them to the municipal council figures dealing with proposed school expenditures, will not be made available to ratepayers, the board announced yesterday evening.

Following the course adopted in the last two years by the present personnel of the board, the press will not be admitted to any sessions at which estimates were discussed.

The preliminary estimates were presented to the trustees yesterday evening and before the discussion commenced the press was asked to withdraw. Chairman W. P. Jones made it clear there would be no figures available to the press until they were presented to the council on February 22.

With advances being made by elementary and high school teachers for wage restorations, and a reduction of $2,470 in government grants for teachers' salaries, together with extra expenditure to meet health insurance costs, the trustees this year may be faced with the necessity to increase their budget.

They would, however, offer no comment on the suggestion yesterday evening, stating the time was too early for such forecasting.

Forty-seven Saanich school pupils received dental treatment during January, Dr. Samuel Youlton, school dentist, reported to the Saanich School Board yesterday evening. The value of work done was $58, for which $2.50 was received.

Letters To The Editor

NOM-DE-PLUME MISUSED?

To the Editor:—Recently a contributor asked these questions: "What is Socialism?" "What is Communism?" and "What is Fascism?"

This is all very well, but it seems to me rather amusing that he should sign the letter "Christian Socialist," while being ignorant of the significance of the nom-de-plume. I would suggest he use a safe signature, like the one below, until he succeeds in finding a definition for "Socialism."

RELATIVITY

To the Editor:—A poser for religious fanatics and propounders of Christian principles, morals and ethics has been put forward by Sir Norman Angell, and in passing it could be stated that he is not generally looked upon as a Communist.

He says: "It can hardly be accident that deep religious feeling is so often associated with ferocious cruelty. The association is too frequent for there not to be some psychological nexus explaining the fact."

A sober thinker like Sir Norman Angell does not make such a statement without due reflection, and it would be interesting as well as amusing to see how religious fanatics would tackle a problem of this magnitude. One is inclined to wonder if, in their childlike belief in biblical revelations, whether it is possible for them to discover some divine sanction for what appears to be a pathological phenomenon.

The above is not put forward as a starter, for an argument because we are aware that "those who choose to cling to mysticism must be argued down, for they have placed themselves outside the circle of rational discussion."

IMPRIMATUR.

PRISON FARE BETTER

To the Editor:—During the inquiry into the prison trouble in Ontario the cause was stated to be due to food. Some members of the inquiry commission shared with the inmates the following meal: Soup and crackers, roast beef, green peas and potatoes, mince pie, tea. It was stated to be an average meal. It makes me green with envy.

Now, sir, where does British justice come in. I have been on relief for four years and am allowed $3.50 to feed a child one month. I have two under ten, and four over, the latter eating as much as an ordinary male person. A convict gets his clothes and blankets and is kept warm. A man who obeys the law and works for what he gets, has to clothe his own family, supply his own heat to cook and keep them warm and pay his rent.

In your correspondence column last night, The Nanaimo Daily Herald quoted the following relief rates: Two adults, five dependents, $60; mine is one adult, six dependents, which is really worse, and I get $42.

Now, Mr. Editor, what a difference—$18 a month—within a few miles on the island! Why the difference, and where does a man get justice? Will it ever be possible to get "Work and Wages," as promised so long ago? I don't mean "Starvation Wages."

SCIENTIFIC FREEDOM IN RUSSIA

To the Editor:—Your article entitled "Ignorant Nationalism," in which "heresy," "dogmatic equalitarianism," "fake official science," and antipodes a laudatory picture of a doubtful "honored" scientist, reveals a venom against the admitted advancement in all branches of scientific research and accomplishments in Soviet Russia that is difficult to understand. Were the true facts not available one might condone such an attitude, and I must be excused for opining that the article is not the considered thought of the editor. For both The New York Times and Science Service, which printed the original story of the arrest of Prof. Vorlov, and the postponement of the Science Congress corrected their statements, the first publication stating it was due to an error in transmission.

In The Moscow Weekly News of December 30, Prof. Vorlov refutes not only the statement that he sits in a Soviet jail (for one reason that they do not have our kind of jails) but that intellectual freedom does not exist in Soviet Russia. Also Vorlov published a reply to The New York Times, finally stating that the congress was postponed at the request of the scientists themselves, who wished more time to prepare for it.

SEES HANDWRITING ON WALL

To the Editor:—Recently, in Vancouver, we have been treated to an exposition of wanton political stupidity and attempted notoriety which would shame a ten-year-old school-boy. The newly-elected president of Vancouver Centre Conservative Association has been hurling dirt at his political enemies, the Liberals.

Yet another lawyer in the House would not hurt, I suppose. But would Mr. Adam Smith Johnson meet his Waterloo at the polls?

His references to "Junketeers" and "Junkies" will achieve him nothing save derision and contempt from the man on the street—the voter.

To many of us old-timers, this political game of the ins and outs the Liberals or the Conservatives, means positively nothing save a foul odor. "Patronage" is the word, and the damnation of this country.

The handwriting on the wall in politics is plain to be seen.

Progressive action, not idiotic disparagement, is the required medicine for the public health. We would like to respect Mr. Adam Smith Johnson: why does he not give us an opportunity to do so?

The last gasp of a perishing politician aspiring for honors convinces us that the last state of that man is worse than the first.

Oh! That we might all wake up and think and "do" for the rising generation; forgetting our petty selfishness.

HAROLD MCCONNAN.

"TRUER PATRIOTISM"

To the Editor:—"True Radical" or "Real Radical"—one and the same, I imagine—should be "Pseudo-Radical," for his recent letter gives away his clumsy attempt at camouflage. He explains "non-radical societies" as "patriotic," thereby allying himself with Capitalism, the camp to which he obviously belongs. What a laugh!

When Big Business requires gun fodder for the protection of its financial and industrial monopolies he calls upon the people to "protect their homes and families." This is called patriotism as opposed to radicalism, despite the fact that Capitalism has confiscated more homes and destroyed more family life on British territory than any war has yet done.

Plain Socialism and plain radicalism suggest that true patriotism lies in protecting home and family, and incidentally, country against a system which can confiscate property for taxes, and homes which have been built by years of honest labor. The protection of the home owner and the prevention of poverty and unemployment—causes of undernourishment, and the breaking-up of family life in many instances, is a truer type of patriotism and a greater devotion to the familiar slogan "For England, Home and Beauty" than recruiting stations, war machines and poison gas.

PLAIN SOCIALIST.

REAL MONEY?

To the Editor:—Social Crediter Dunne asks me for a definition of Real Money. Why one only? I can think of so many that my head aches! Here are a few, under capitalist economy:

Real Money is the stuff Mr. Abnerhart draws for his salary. It is also the stuff he forgets when he pays his bonded indebtedness.

Real Money is a commodity, which like other commodities under this anarchical free for all, varies in value or price when it is used, as used it is and under Social Credit would still be so used, as a measure to balance services with goods. It is rather like a carpenter attempting to build a house with a foot rule that measured eleven inches one day and thirteen the next! Where! How?

Social Credit money is Real Money blown up. Like Mr. Bennett's Sound Money, it is mostly air of a decidedly money variety! The kind of money I like best is what Mr. Dunning, the other day called "easy money." But that is the stuff of which dreams are made!

PRAIRIE VISITORS WANTED?

To the Editor:—I cannot understand why the publicity or tourist group spend so much money advertising for tourists and visitors to come here and the B.C. government place a policeman on the border between Alberta and B.C. to keep prairie visitors out unless they buy a B.C. auto license.

I know for a fact that the policeman is sending a lot of winter visitors south—visitors that would otherwise come here to spend the winter.

When my neighbor and I drove through, we were held up about an hour, and asked a whole lot of silly questions. Then we were told we would have to buy a B.C. license. My neighbor decided to go to Long Beach, California, and I said if I had to buy a B.C. license I would also go south. Then the policeman gave me a permit for B.C.

Now I am a British subject born in Devonshire, England, came to Canada about thirty-five years ago, pioneered ahead of the railways in the Royston District, in Saskatchewan, and have spent the winter in Victoria for the last eight or nine years. I have always enjoyed my visit and always have been a booster for Victoria.

But I suppose if we prairie people are not wanted in British Columbia, we will have to go south.

It would be a good idea for the B.C. government to advertise in the prairie newspapers, that they do not wish prairie visitors to come here.

I would like to hear other prairie visitors on this subject, as I know there are a lot who can back me up.

Your slogan should read: "Follow the birds to B.C. and get plucked."

PRAISE FROM A WOMAN

To the Editor:—Why are some people not satisfied with the Saanich police? Is it because they wish to save money, or is there another reason?

I have known the Saanich force for a long while and find them respectable in every way.

The Saanich police are very kind to the poor and unfortunate, always donating to them.

They worked very hard to make the Saanich police ball a success, so that poor children would be able to have new shoes.

Some of you people like to tell all the mistakes that they make. Don't we all make mistakes at times? Some people tell a lot of rumors that you heard someone else say about the Saanich police!

You people when you read my letter will say that "the Saanich police have to have a woman to write for them." But as it happens they don't know I'm writing this letter.

MISS ELSIE MURPHY.

PRAISE AND BLAME

To the Editor:—I have had the pleasure of dealing in minor affairs with most of the office staff of the Saanich municipal hall. I can say it has been a happy experience to note how the staff members, when interviewed, just radiate with pleasantness and go to no end of limits to give you satisfaction. The same pleasant courtesy and the same interested and knowing understanding has been experienced in my relations with members of the staff of the City Hall in Victoria. God bless these two institutions and may the problems they are trying to solve meet with success!

I hate making odious comparisons, but I have had occasion to enter the Oak Bay Municipal Hall and I can say it is quite a forbidding place. No matter whether you are a big shot or not the same stiff, down penetrating scrutiny is yours. While there, be careful what you ask for and what you say, the law is exploited to the nth degree. The relief applicants are virtually under mailed fist. I am a salesman and know people, but am not on relief.

Where is the sunny atmosphere that should reign in a municipality of Oak Bay's wealth? Where is the touch of kindness and consideration that should bloom here? The devil knows but the good citizens don't.

A YOUNG CANADIAN.

ROBBED OF "CADDY" FAME

To the Editor:—A full column article written by Sandham Graves, a columnist, in connection with Cadborosaurus, appeared in Notes and Comment in The Daily Colonist, January 19. There can be no objection to satire, sarcasm, or ridicule in connection with Cadborosaurus. That is part of the game. But I object to veiled personal innuendoes, and think that the time has arrived when the public should know who was responsible for the world-wide publicity of Cadborosaurus, and millions of dollars' worth of free advertising for the City of Victoria.

When I discovered the monster in Cadboro Bay, phoned O. H. Nelson of The Colonist's editorial staff on October 14, 1933. A front page article appeared the next morning.

The original sketch was on view in The Colonist window for two weeks. I originated the name Cadborosaurus, and copyrighted the sketch and title in October, 1933. Also wrote "The Story of Caddy" (Cadborosaurus), being a collection of facts and copy-righted the whole feature. Permission in writing was given to The Daily Colonist to use the material for publicity purposes.

The whole feature was published by Archie Wells, News Editor of The Daily Times, who arranged with the Associated Screen News to visit Victoria with a movie camera. The picture was taken by Cadboro Bay, on the world, including an interview between Archie Wells and myself over the radio in the United States and Canada. It was shown in local theatres on The Daily Colonist News Reel.

It seems to me that Mr. Graves' comments are not fair, and tend to depreciate the value of a world-wide feature covered by copyright.

LOUDEST BIRD IN THE FARMYARD

To the Editor:—It is generally believed there will be an election in this province before the year is over. If this is so, people should now be considering which way they will vote. I say this because a comparatively new factor is in the field, namely the C.C.F. party. As this group states that once it is elected, happy days will soon be here, many people might at first be tempted to vote C.C.F. However, I should like to point out the following facts:

1. One of the main promises of the C.C.F. is the socialization of finance. As this could only be done by the Dominion Government, it is misleading the electorate to make such a promise, and Mr. Connell showed his honesty, by refusing to take responsibility for it.

2. The C.C.F. has the support of Communists. Although the leaders of the C.C.F. interpret their speeches with praise for the churches, they also support tacitly if not openly, the Communists, whose aim is to destroy religion.

3. The C.C.F. condemns conflict between nations as imperialist wars,

Declarer Makes Grand Slam By Running Long Suit To Force Threat Cards From Opponent

By WM. E. MCKENNEY

William Perry of New York is one of the class of expert bridge players who seldom win more than one important championship. However, the fact that he holds no national trophy does not detract in the slightest degree from the excellence of his game, for this is a lot that he shares with thousands of others who play bridge, both in duplicate and rubber form.

In today's hand, Perry had the South cards. The manner in which the contract eventually was reached might be challenged by some, but the interest in the hand lies in the play by which Perry made all thirteen tricks.

Of course, Perry's bid of two hearts was highly unconventional, but he, like many other players, took the mention of a new suit in the bidding as forcing for one round. When his

Today's Contract Problem

With no adverse bidding, South gets the contract for seven hearts. After winning the first spade trick, he clears trumps. Should he now discard a club on the ace of spades?

yet, its members talk continually of the necessity of the class war. This is an attempt to create hatred among our people.

4. The C.C.F. both in its paper and over the radio praises the government of Soviet Russia. As this government is a ruthless dictatorship, we may well doubt the C.C.F. cry of preserving democracy.

5. The C.C.F. declares that Socialism is a better system than capitalism. Russia is the first Socialist nation and Canada is a capitalist nation. Many of us may grumble, but who would like to live in Russia?

This letter is addressed, of course, to all who may care to read it, but especially to those in my part of the country, where being a parlor pink is the latest fad.

Like a fledgling rooster, the C.C.F. is the loudest bird in the political farmyard, but for all its noise it is unable to produce a single golden egg.

WHY NOT IMMIGRATION?

To the Editor:—With further reference to the question of Canadian immigration policy, I would refer to articles in favor of his plan advanced by Brig. General M. L. Hornby. The author points out that the price level of agricultural products decreases to a great extent on world conditions. General financial conditions, and the volume of employment the world over, seem to be ruling factors in the agricultural price level; for the purchasing power of the masses of workers is governed by the volume of employment and the financial remuneration received by the workers and that therefore the problem is how to increase purchasing power. It is General Hornby's contention that purchasing power will not be restored to Canadian workers until the population objective of 25,000,000 people is decided upon and proper steps taken in that direction. When the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways were built the same were projected on the economic promise that Canada would achieve the population of this figure within a reasonable period.

It is contended that in spite of difficulties there are no grounds for assuming that a good average farmer can not, over a period of years, make a good and safe livelihood on the land. Much depends, of course, on the locality where he is established, on his suitability for what is termed "subsistence" agriculture, on whether the right type of farming is adopted, and whether the farmer's financial position is such as to give him a fair chance of becoming established. Failures in the past have arisen where farmers have established themselves in localities where "mixed farming" could not be followed practically. It is contended that there is still room for a large increase in the agricultural population of many good farming areas.

General Hornby states: "I am not, of course, advocating the immediate immigration of large numbers of people into Canada. I realize fully that no such immigration is possible until previous preparation on an ample scale has been made by the newcomers proper establishment in self-supporting homes. What I am advocating is that a definite plan of settlement should be formulated now, and that the essential preparations should be taken in hand without delay. The carrying out of the essential previous preparations will call for new goods and services on a great scale; will distribute large sums of new money in payment therefor; will give impetus to new manufacturing, will create new employment, and will act generally as a fill-up to business throughout Canada."

An early resumption of immigration will benefit farmers and labor in common with all other classes in the community. Moreover, there are other factors in our national economy which demand imperatively that we partner responded with two no trumps, he decided that he could not temporize further and jumped, at once to six diamonds. His partner, with two aces, went to seven.

SOLUTION TO PREVIOUS CONTRACT PROBLEM

Two rounds of diamonds were played, the last won by South. He now led the queen of hearts, hoping to tempt a cover, if West held the king, but with no intention of finessing. The ace won, and Perry now led a club to his own hand.

He then ran down six more diamond tricks, and before West played to the tenth trick, his hand contained the king and ten of spades, and the queen-king of clubs. Dummy's remaining cards were the ace and queen of spades, and the king and ten of clubs.

Whatever card West played, South had to win all the tricks. The squeeze was effective where the finesse would have lost.

should set about increasing our population without delay—the burden of taxation, and the extremely precarious financial position of our railways. Canada's arrested development has contributed a great deal to the uneconomic balance that has prevailed. On the other hand, Britain has now a surplus population much of which can be absorbed into the economic life of the Dominion under a properly financed system of controlled immigration, such as has been endorsed by the Saskatchewan government.

"THE DAYS OF THESE KINGS"

To the Editor:—There are two opposite ways of looking at the present-day events and conditions. The optimist expresses the cheerful and hopeful attitude of mind, which is all very well if consistent with the facts. The pessimist (never a great favorite) expresses more the worst aspect of things. The first is generally hopeful that things will turn out all right, no matter how gloomy they are. The other is sure that things are bad, but not so bad as things are going to be. Both are possibly of distorted vision and of wrong use. There is a shallow and airy optimism that, ostrich-like, refuses to see and to take account of existing menacing perils of our social, economic, and international life. The relation to life's problems and portents for the near future. And there is a pessimism that is often blind to the ultimate good which survives and defeats all evil.

The conditions and events transpiring in our day speak in no uncertain voice as to their logical and destructive outcome. It is evident that the prophecy in which the title of this letter is found ("in the days of these kings shall the God of Heaven set up a Kingdom which shall never be destroyed, and it shall stand for ever") has not yet taken place.

Many definite prophecies have been fulfilled, and not a word that God has spoken will go unfulfilled. For what is written will be accomplished. We naturally inquire what light the sure word of prophecy will give us as we approach the end of this dispensation, called "the times of the Gentiles." Christ himself gives us both the name and the sign of the times of the Gentiles in the words "And Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles until the times of the Gentiles shall be fulfilled." The times "when God will take out of the Gentiles a people for His Name."

Christ authenticates Daniel and sends us to him for information on the end of this age. Sir Isaac Newton once said, "To reject Daniel is to reject the Christian religion." Joseph tells us that when Alexander the Great (the notable horn of the Orrelean kingdom) came to Jerusalem in 332 B.C. he was greatly impressed when Jaddua, the High Priest, showed him the prophecies relating to himself in the book of Daniel. This book is spoken of by our Lord Himself as Daniel the Prophet. What a rebuke to Kuennen Wellhausen and modern followers who speak of Daniel as a gifted and pious Jew who wrote it as avowed fiction. Imagine a prophecy that foretold a truth! This may do for the "Higher Critics," but to a plain man on the street such a grade of piety is unknown to a true follower of the Lord Jesus Christ. To many He is known only as the "Jesus of History"; to a few as Jesus Christ, the sent of God; to fewer still if any, the Lord Jesus Christ who claims their obedience and allegiance.

The Scriptural outline of this Gentile age is simple, as given in the great empire dominated the scene. These are each and all easy of identification to the student of history in their order of identification and succession; viz., "Babylon, thou art that head of gold"; "Medo-Persia, the arms and breast of silver"; Greece, the body and thighs of brass; Rome, the legs of iron, and feet part of iron and of clay.

It is just here where Italy came in. Under Mussolini Italy has suddenly appeared as a first-class European power. The prophecies of Daniel and Revelation are being fulfilled before our very eyes, moving forward to the great climax of the time of the Gentiles.

The Roman Empire, the last world empire in the symbolical image, was in existence when Christ came the first time. It will be in existence again in the form of the revived ten kingdoms (ten toes). When He comes the second time, these ten kingdoms fall within the territorial limits of the original Empire of Rome. The last head of this revived Roman Empire is the world dictator and Anti-Christ, finally crushed out of existence by the Stone Kingdom. "When these things begin to come to pass, look up—your redemption draweth nigh." Have they begun? For an event unprecedented in the history of the world and transcendental in character will be enacted when "this same Jesus shall so come in like manner as ye have seen Him go into heaven." But Scripture declares that many will not only fail to observe the indications of the supreme event, but treat with open ridicule and sharp criticism all those whose greatest crime is to believe the simple statements of the Word of God. A true prediction for a rising apostate age of those who do not "love His appearing."

Makes Address On Copernicus

Miss Phoebe Riddle, B.A., Speaks to Astronomical Society

Because Copernicus had the courage to doubt the traditional ideas of astronomy as set forth by Aristotle and Ptolemy; he was the first modern astronomer, declared Miss Phoebe Riddle, B.A., at the first of the spring lectures of the Victoria centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada yesterday evening at the Y.W.C.A.

To understand Copernicus, one must understand the period in which he lived, Miss Riddle said. The scientific views of the people of Europe before the time of Copernicus in the early sixteenth century were greatly influenced by the theories of Aristotle. Aristotle believed the earth was stationary and the stars revolved around it. This viewpoint on the behavior of the universe was accepted as truth for fourteen hundred years. Accordingly, when Copernicus began to set forth his own ideas about astronomy, he had a large problem in converting those around him to his theories.

Copernicus received most of his early education from his family and when of age attended the University of Krakow and later the University of Prohorov. He was then persuaded by his uncle, who was a bishop, to enter the clergy.

It was here Copernicus made the startling discovery that the stars and planets did not revolve around the earth, but that the earth revolved on its own axis. This theory he set forth in a book which he wrote in 1543. In order to convert his friends to this belief, Copernicus used very simple arguments. Pythagoras, he said, had declared the earth to revolve on its axis, but, however, had not stated why.

Another argument he

Plans Revived For Auditorium

Worsted Mills and Market
Building Sites Are Discussed

Civic auditorium hopes were revived at the city lands committee meeting yesterday as the committee considered a proposal from Dr. Clém Davie to convert the B.C. Worsted Mills building into such a structure and then turned to reconsider the proposal to transform the City Market Building into an indoor stadium.

Dr. Davie, who attended the meeting with Eric C. Clarkson, architect, presented plans for the alteration of the worsted mills structure at a cost of $16,000. The plans provided for a maple basketball court and the lining of the walls and ceiling with tenet material for insulation and acoustics. The building would house 1,800 spectators for basketball games or other sports activities and 3,000 when the court floor was used.

Dr. Davie suggested the city bear the expense of converting the building, which he offered to rent. The committee favored the improvement and purchase of the building at Dr. Davie's expense. As an alternative it suggested he undertake a lease of the premises.

On the suggestion of major expenditure on the worsted mills, Alderman Archie Willis reminded the committee of the proposal advanced some time ago to convert the Market Building into an auditorium. Methods by which the centrally-located structure could be converted to meet the needs of an arena for indoor sports and big meetings were outlined. Further study will be given the matter by Dr. Davie.

IMMIGRATION STUDY PLAN

Conservatives Take Up
Issue on Hornby Scheme

Immigration for Canada on a rational basis was urged by R. D. Harvey, president of the Victoria Conservative Association, at a meeting of the association's city executive last night.

Canada, he said, could easily support three times its present population. If immigration were resumed, however, concentration should be made on obtaining British stock.

On his recommendation the executive decided to make a study of the Hornby scheme by a special committee of sixteen members headed by Brigadier J. Rutherford Brown.

Mr. Harvey referred to legislative proposals before the Imperial Parliament which would provide three-fourths of the cost of transferring settlers to the Dominions by the home government. If unsuccessful, they would be returned home.

A report on the change in postal regulations was made by Hubert Lethaby, chairman of a special committee of investigation. This will be forwarded to Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M.P.

In anticipation of an early general election, the executive urged all Conservatives to register on the voters' list.

SNOW STALLS FOOD TRUCKS

Nanaimo, Feb. 4.—Winter has struck heavily at the government forestry camp, sixteen miles west of Nanaimo, where 102 men are engaged in road work which is being paid for by the provincial government under their unemployment aid fund for single men.

On Monday there was four feet of snow at the camp, and it is estimated that two additional feet have fallen since then.

While food supplies are adequate for a few days, a consignment of $500 worth was on two trucks which left Nanaimo on Tuesday morning for the camp, but which were "snowed under" and abandoned by their drivers. Foreman A. Corbett made arrangements yesterday for two horse teams to attempt the trip, unloading the stalled trucks and carrying the provisions on to the marooned camps.

The snow does not at present interfere with the regular work of the camp, which is confined to rock work on the new road construction. The men receive 30 cents per hour and pay 75 cents per day for their board.

First United Church Observes Anniversary

Representatives of Church,
State and City Extend Congratulations at Seventy-fifth Birthday Dinner

The debt stroke of a knife in the hand of Mrs. E. W. Hamber, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, marked the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the First United Church here, when she cut a towering birthday cake at an anniversary dinner in the church yesterday evening.

About 300 members of the congregation and friends sat down to a turkey dinner in the gymnasium of the church, attractively converted into a banquet hall and decorated with bunting.

Guests of honor were His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber; Rev. J. G. Brown, president of the B.C. Conference of the United Church of Canada; Bishop H. E. Sexton; His Worship, Mayor A. McGavin and Mrs. McGavin; Alderman W. T. Straith and Mrs. Straith; Hon. F. M. McPherson, Minister of Public Works, and Mrs. McPherson; Rev. E. F. Church, of Metropolitan United Church; Rev. A. deB. Owen; Arthur Lee, chairman of the Presbyterian of Victoria; Dr. A. S. Imrie, president of the Victoria Ministerial Association and pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church; and Mrs. Imrie.

Dr. W. G. Wilson, pastor of the First United Church, was honored at the dinner.

FOURTEEN PIONEERS
After a toast to the King, Mr. Straith, acting as chairman, explained that the purpose of the dinner was to commemorate the founding of the church by a band of fourteen men and two women on the evening of February 3, 1862. The congregation, he said, had grown from sixteen to 1,600 in the intervening seventy-five years.

He read congratulatory messages from Archbishop J. H. MacDonald and Adjutant L. Ede of the Salvation Army, neither of whom was able to be present, and introduced His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor Hamber.

"Your church has given a full measure of service to the community and I congratulate you on the splendid work that has been done in the last seventy-five years. I hope you will extend still further the useful service you are giving to mankind," Mr. Hamber said.

Bishop Sexton extended to the congregation the hearty greetings of the entire Anglican Church. The First United Church, he said, had a glorious past, and he hoped it would have a still more glorious future. It was particularly fortunate in having Dr. W. G. Wilson as pastor, he added.

Mr. McPherson brought to the dinner the sincere good wishes of the Premier, his colleagues and the Provincial Government, he said, and hoped that the public and spiritual success of the church would be continued. He noted with interest that the seventy-fifth anniversary of the church predated by a few months the sixty years, were heartily applauded.

Girls of the First United C.G.I.T. served at supper, waiting on twenty large tables on the gymnasium floor and in the gallery.

The tables were decorated in pale pink and green, with Oregon grape centrepieces.

GEN. KLEBER IS SENT TO MALAGA

Canadian Press
Madrid, Feb. 4.—General Emilio Kleber, acting on a government request, resigned his position as International Brigade-commander, yesterday, and left for the south to organize Socialist defences at Malaga.

Informed government sources said the high command insisted General Kleber, a naturalized Canadian of Austrian birth, formerly of Toronto, relinquish his command in the Madrid sector to take over direction of the anti-Fascist resistance on the southern coast.

Previous reports had said the general had resigned his command after political differences with the Madrid emergency defence junta.

POSTAGE STAMP BRINGS $5,100

Associated Press
New York, Feb. 4.—A famed postage stamp rarity, the dull blue Boscauw, N.H., Postmaster Provision issue of 1846, brought $5,100 at an auction here yesterday.

The only copy known to exist, the stamp went to a middle west stamp collector who preferred to remain anonymous.

Little more than the size of an ordinary two-cent stamp and slightly oblong, the stamp resembles a cancellation in a frame. Dull blue, it is printed on yellowish paper and is attached to a small white envelope.

Fleetwood-Smith Hero As Australia Evens Test Cricket Series

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE HALLAWAY

VICTORIA'S lack of an auditorium where major sports events, that necessitate a large attendance to give promoters a chance to at least break even financially, is again brought forcibly to view, with the coming visit to the Pacific Northwest of the two greats of the professional tennis world, Frederick J. Perry and Ellsworth Vines. Bred as among the finest singles players developed in the history of the sport, the Briton and American are sure-fire crowd drawers, and such an exhibition, put on here, would attract an attendance in the thousands. Proof of that is the crowd Perry, appearing by himself when he was still an amateur, pulled through the gates at the Victoria Tennis Club last fall.

And the tough part of it all is the fact that Perry and Vines would not want a fortune to come here. According to information obtained by the writer, the pros would be only too willing to include Victoria on their itinerary on a percentage basis of the gate receipts. Of course, they naturally demand that their exhibition be put on in a building large enough to seat a good sized crowd. They ask for no guarantee, realizing their appearance is tops in the tennis world and the general public are a cinch to turn out. Several individuals in the city would be willing to bring Perry and Vines here, providing the playing accommodation was available. The only location in the city is the Armories and the initial cost of putting up seats makes it impossible to utilize that location. It is a sad state of affairs, and at the present time there seems no out. Victoria sports fans will just have to pass up seeing major attractions, until some public spirited group of citizens really goes to work on securing an auditorium.

While writing about auditoriums and tennis, we noticed the other day where William T. (Big Bill) Tilden took another pot shot at the United States Davis Cup committee and the United States Lawn Tennis Association. The former amateur and professional king of the courts delights in throwing these sharp darts of criticism. He is so outspoken that he even questions the "mentality" of those who have the responsibility of selecting the players to represent the States in further quest of the famous trophy.

Tilden believes the United States can regain the Davis Cup this year, if the team is made up of Donald Budge, Gene Mako and Sidney B. Wood. He dismisses such players as Bryan (Bile) Grant, Frank Parker, Bobby Rigg and Charley Harris with a shrug, saying: "Good tennis players, yes, but not the kind of players who, with the cup at stake, can beat such men as Von Cramm, Austin, Crawford and Quist."

Minor league baseball has retraced many a step since the historic meeting in Columbus, called to save the little fellows at the height of the depression in 1931. Judge W. G. Bramham, president of the National Association, proudly announces that thirty or more circuits will be in operation during the 1937 season. The North Carolina State and the Evergreen League in the Pacific Northwest actually have qualified as new members. Several others are nearing the completion of organization and preparing to make application. The increase is the continuation of a steady growth since 1933, when at one stage there were only eleven loops. Once it was brought home to them that the very structure of organized baseball was crumbling, the majors helped, of course. But the prevailing public opinion that the big fellows are absorbing complete ownership and control of outfits of lower classification can stand a great deal of correction, according to Bramham. The able Durham, N. C., man who heads the minor leagues, points out that approximately only 15 per cent of clubs in smaller circuits are owned by major league interests. A working agreement in reality is nothing more than a sale. The major league club pays for the right to select an athlete or two, but does not make the selection until the latter part of the season. There are many such agreements now in force and they are increasing in number. The minor league club accepting such an agreement still is locally owned and operated and is obligated to its major league associate only to the extent of assigning a player contract or two to the big league club.

Deadly Bowling Retires English Batsmen Cheaply

Googly Expert Captures Six Wickets for 110 Runs; Aussies Win by 148

Deciding Tilt At Melbourne

Adelaide, Australia, Feb. 4.—England and Australia made preliminary plans today for the deciding battle in the five-game test cricket series to be played at Melbourne, February 26. After six days' play the Aussies emerged victorious in the fourth international encounter by 148 runs to even the series at two wins each. A badly-worn wicket, exploited to the limit by the clever Antipodean bowlers, proved too big a handicap for the touring players in the concluding innings of the contest and they succeeded in compiling only 243 runs out of 392 required for victory. Australia's totals were 268 and 433, England making a first innings' total of 330.

"The result was in doubt right until today," declared Don Bradman, winning captain, after the game when congratulated by Gilbert Allen, England's skipper. "I hope you have enjoyed the match as much as the Australians."

"I want to congratulate Australia and particularly Bradman for his great play," Allen said. "I believe we shall have the luck at Melbourne and the result there will be different, so don't be too cocky."

L. O. B. Fleetwood-Smith, Antipodean googly expert, was the hero of cricket fans today. He bowled with deadly effect, making his deliveries turn awkwardly on a bare spot at one end of the pitch. The Victorian captured six wickets for 110 runs. E. L. McCormick took two for 45. Stanley McCabe one for 15 and W. J. O'Reilly one for 55. Playing in his first test of the present tour, R. E. S. Wyatt, Warwickshire captain, made a courageous attempt to turn the game in England's favor. He hit out strongly for fifty runs, twenty of them resulting from boundary strokes, but finally was caught by W. A. Oldfield, behind the wickets, off McCabe. Bradman's second innings total of 212 stood out as the best individual achievement of the match. Charles Barnett, Gloucestershire opening batsman, coming a good second with 129 in England's first innings. Defeat for England appeared certain when Wally Hammond was dismissed in the first over today with only one run added to England's overnight total of 148 for three wickets. Hammond made thirty-nine runs yesterday but Fleetwood-Smith beat him with a ball that turned sharply from the leg. Maurice Leyland was joined by Wyatt, the pair carrying the score to 190 when the former chopped one of Fleetwood-Smith's offerings to A. G. Chipperfield in the slips.

OUT IN DUCK Leslie Ames went out leg-before-wicket to the same bowler before he had scored. Allen made nine and then asked a ball to R. Gregory at mid-on. Wyatt's dismissal followed, the eighth wicket falling at 291. R. W. V. Robins was bowled for four. William Voce got one. Kenneth Farnes being not out with seven. The result brings Australia's total of victories to fifty-five since test matches were inaugurated in 1876. England has been successful fifty- (Turn to Page 12, Col. 3.)

Fined, But He Got His "Shot"

Enthusiastic English Cricket Fan Taken to Court for Running Onto Field at Adelaide and Taking Picture of Test Cricket Captains

Adelaide, Australia, Feb. 4.—James Hobson, a member of the crew of the liner Ormonde, is returning to England with an amusing yarn about his attempt to photograph Don Bradman and G. O. Allen, captains of the Australian and English test cricket teams. The incident landed him in Adelaide Police Court where a $10 fine was paid by members of both teams. Camera in hand, Hobson ran onto the field today while Allen was batting. The captain succeeded in getting him to return to his seat but not before he had "shot" Bradman. Later, the seaman told the magistrate, Bradman had been his hero since he had travelled on the Ormonde some years ago. He had been carried away by his enthusiasm after taking a few drinks. Hobson was released two hours before the liner sailed. The picture was published in an Adelaide evening newspaper and showed Bradman smiling broadly.

SWEET WATERMELONS AND BITTER WATERMELONS GROW ON THE SAME VINES IN AFRICA

KNOT CHAMP "Not for a battleship will I ever start tying another million knots!" says Robert B. Purruker, retired chief petty officer of San Diego, Calif.

His strange job of tying a million knots began in 1928 when his barber suggested the impossibility of such a feat. In 1935 Purruker belied the barber's words when he counted off his millionth knot. Altogether, 693 spools, with a total length of fourteen and 36-100 miles of string went into the accomplishment of the task. Today, Purruker keeps the result of his handiwork carefully preserved in a specially made chest, proof of a feat that is believed to have never been accomplished before.

INTERNATIONAL ARTIST Creator of some of the greatest contributions ever made to art by an American, John Singer Sargent lived an unusually cosmopolitan life. He was born in Florence, Italy, of American parents, Dr. and Mrs. Fitzwilliam Sargent of Philadelphia, January 12, 1856. Taken in early childhood to Nice, he showed great aptitude in drawing and was encouraged in his work by his artistically minded mother. After having developed into an excellent portrait painter, he went to London where his efforts met with much acclaim. Establishing his studio there, he made periodic visits to America. Throughout his life he refused to give up his American citizenship, though often criticized for his stand on the matter.

FIRST ELECTION Strange as it seems, the last names of four of the twelve men who ran as candidates for the Presidency of the United States in 1789 were later the names of Presidents: Washington, Lincoln, Harrison and Adams.

Tomorrow: The Hedge Hymn

After having developed into an excellent portrait painter, he went to London where his efforts met with much acclaim. Establishing his studio there, he made periodic visits to America. Throughout his life he refused to give up his American citizenship, though often criticized for his stand on the matter.

THE CLIPPERS, however, were only three games behind the league-leading Portland Bucs, the race remaining a free-for-all.

In the last five minutes of the contest Sam Timmins, Oakland goalie, chased a customer into the stands, only to be shoved back over the railing head first.

John Houbregs, Clipper defence "taint," was fined $25 after he hooked his stick between Referee Norman Pridham's legs, sending him sprawling to the ice. Ron Moffatt, Oakland wingman, drew a ten-minute misconduct penalty.

Seattle scored twice in the first period on goals by Johnny Newman and Dave Downie. The winning goal came eight minutes before the end of the game when Sammy McAdam, assisted by Newman and Tabor, scored.

Oakland plays at Portland Saturday night.

GEDDES LEADS SOOKE TO WIN

Visitors Beat Hudson's Bay 48 to 33 in Basketball Play-off Clash

Finding the hoop for twenty points, Eddie Geddes led a smooth squad of Sooke eagles to a 48 to 33 victory over the Hudson's Bay at the High School yesterday evening to give the visitors a big lead in the first of the home-and-home series for the Victoria and district senior C crown.

The visitors were out in front at the interval by a margin of twelve points and then turned on a little more pressure to keep their lead to the final bell. The second game of the series will take place at Sooke next week.

The Highlanders were leading by eight points at the rest period and then easily outscored the college men in the final period. Myra was top scorer for the winners with eleven points, while Fricker and Purdy were next with seven each.

The Dominions had no difficulty in winning from the Saanich squad after enjoying a 30 to 18 lead at the interval. Roy Taylor and Axel Kinnear were high scorers for Nicoll's team with fourteen and fifteen points, respectively. Hank Rowe, Jack Mottishaw and Carl Costes were missing from the Dominions' line-up.

Former Vancouver Hockey Star Tied for Minor Hockey Scoring Lead

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 4.—Jack Markle demonstrated today that they can't keep Syracuse players out of the spotlight in the International-American Hockey League scoring race.

After Art Jackson left Stars for the big leagues, Clint Smith, Philadelphia Ramblers, grabbed the individual scoring lead but he had sole possession of top place only for a week.

In the scoring statistics released today by the league president, Markle was up there in a tie with Smith—each boasting 35 points.

Smith's teammate, Bryan Hextall, was only a point behind with 34. In third place came Keating or Providence with 31 and then another of those high-scoring Syracuseans, Eddie Convey, with 30.

Jack Church, Syracuse defenceman and the league's prize penalty collector, kept working at his specialty during the past week and boosted the total number of his rules infractions to 33.

MAY OPEN TOMORROW Chess Tournament

Providing weather conditions are favorable, the City Chess Club will open its city chess championship tournament tomorrow night in the club room, 1118 Langley Street, starting at 8 o'clock. The opening round, billed for last Friday, was postponed owing to inclement weather.

The draw is as follows: N. R. Stewart vs. W. B. Christopher, N. R. Stewart vs. L. Collins, F. G. Rodall vs. W. G. Blanchett, K. S. Patrick vs. G. Jones, A. G. Moody vs. W. H. Stokes, F. Stratholt vs. W. Murray and E. Cox vs. P. Payzant.

With First-class Farm Team to Recruit From Manager of New York Rangers Hockey Club Is Sitting Pretty; Pair of Games Scheduled Tonight

Rival managers cast envious glances toward Lester Patrick today as the grey-haired New York Ranger manager puffed out his chest and surveyed the success of his farm system. He is the only leader in the National Hockey League who could transplant a whole farm team into the big league with a fair chance of its succeeding.

Patrick's Philadelphia Ramblers are burning up the International-American League in a way that indicates they might hold their own if injuries wrecked the New York club and Patrick was forced to draft the whole outfit.

Ramblers have played fourteen games without a defeat, winning 6 to 1 from Springfield in their latest triumph last night. They have half a dozen stars who may be doing their puckhandling in the big time when another season rolls around.

The injustice of it is that Patrick has no particular use for his minor league stars at the moment while other N.H.L. managers like Red Dutton of New York Americans and Cliff Loughin of Chicago would do very well with a batch each.

DUTTON AFTER FAIR Dutton is trying out two from New Haven Eagles in his clash with Toronto Maple Leafs in Madison Square tonight. Alfie Moore, the goalie who shut out Montreal Canadiens last Saturday, will be in the nets and Tony Hemmerling will be on a forward line.

Boston play Canadiens in Montreal but even, they win, they will still be two points behind the second-place New York Rangers in the American section. Patrick's team take on Detroit Red Wings in Detroit. The best they will get out of a win is a reduction of the Wing lead over them of five points.

Feud Keeps Heavyweight Boxing Situation In Spotlight

Louis's Handlers Pan Mike Jacobs; Pastor to Coast

Youth Who Stayed Ten Rounds With Negro Gets Offer to Fight Ramage

Joe Gould Gives Boys Run Around

New York, Feb. 4.—What started out as a proposal for a Jim Braddock-Joe Louis heavyweight championship fight in Chicago, looked very much like a free-for-all feud between promoters and managers of the principals today, while all hands marked time on the proposition.

In New York, Madison Square Garden promoter Jimmy Johnston and Braddock's manager Joe Gould long have been in the name-calling stage. Now, in Chicago, Louis's managers have taken to berating Mike Jacobs, who promotes the brown bomber's battles.

Meantime, the $500,000 offer from Sheldon Clark, Chicago sportsman, for Braddock to defend his crown against Louis at Soldier's Field in June was waiting for signatures. Gould was due in Chicago some time this week, as he explained, to sign the papers, but Jacobs, who has Louis under contract, planned a more waiting game.

GOULD MISSING
Gould was scheduled to ask the New York State Athletic Commission yesterday for return of the $5,000 forfeit Braddock posted as evidence of his intention to fight Max Schmeling for the championship in Madison Square Garden's bowl on June 3. The shrewd pilot of the titleholder did not appear, however, and left everyone guessing as to his intentions.

Jacobs, returning from Chicago where he heard Clark's proposition, said he was looking into the matter thoroughly. This delay apparently didn't please Julian Black, of Louis's managerial staff. He accused Jacobs of "stalling" and of "protecting" Schmeling, whom Jacobs also had signed for a title go.

And if Jacobs doesn't bring out his fountain pen soon and sign Louis for the title, Black threatened, he and his co-manager, John Roxborough, would sign for the "over Jacobs" head.

FOSTER AFTER PASTOR
Los Angeles, Feb. 4.—Los Angeles, always ready to perform a miracle, today produced a pair of fight managers willing to help Bob Pastor, New York, cash in on his feat of not getting knocked out by Joe Louis.

Letting the Braddock-Schmeling-Louis chips fall where they will in the east, the two managers are Pop Foster and Gus Wilson.

Foster, who helped Jimmy McLarnin goldplate his future, has an up and coming-back young heavyweight, Lee Ramage. Between them, they are anxious to contribute to young Mr. Pastor's career and will do so for an appropriate share of the purse.

"Lee is a great card out here," said Pop, speaking no untruth, "and we would like Mr. Pastor to come out to the coast."

NO PART OF LOUIS
Pop frankly declared he was not interested in a match with Joe Louis, provided one was handy. It was Louis who sent Ramage into retirement two years ago, and Foster who brought him out last year and with marked success. Pop doesn't want Lee to retire any more.

"We'll be ready for Louis later in the spring, and don't make any mistake about that," promised Pop.

Gus Wilson, who started training and handling fighters when Jack Johnson was a preliminary boy, possesses the Coast's brightest heavyweight prospect of the year in Bob Nestell.

Blond-headed Bob started fighting as a professional a year ago and won ten straight fights, nine by knockouts. Gus is nursing him carefully, and sends him into one of his "crucial" fights next Tuesday here against King Levinsky. Nestell is still young and the Kingfish, like the last scratch of a bear, can be troublesome.

"If we get by Levinsky, we would like Pastor," said Wilson.

High Cardinals Beat Mount View
In a Feder Cup basketball fixture at Lake Hill, yesterday afternoon, the Victoria High School Cardinals nipped the Mount View High School 19 to 16.

The game was close all through and at no time was Mount View trailing by more than a few points. At half time the Cardinals were in the lead 12 to 10.

"Forky" Andrews led the Cardinals with ten points and C. Bate topped Mount View with eight.

Promoter Nick Lyster announced yesterday evening Pocock had been matched with Chuck Ferguson, lightweight from Vancouver.

CHRISTY WILL WRESTLE SCOT

McIntyre and Hollywood Lad Meet in Main Mat Battle Saturday Night

Vic Christy, Glendale, California, and Donald McIntyre, Scotland, two of the smartest grapplers in the game today, will return to Victoria Saturday, when they appear in the main event on the weekly card at the Tillicum gym. The show will open at 8:30 o'clock.

Christy, since he left Hollywood to take up wrestling, has been making great strides to become very popular with followers of the groan and grunt fraternity all over the country. In his last appearance here he held Pat Fralley to a one-fall draw.

McIntyre is well versed in good, clean wrestling holds, and his cleverness has caused the defeat of more than one top-notch. Like Christy he prefers to wrestle cleanly, but if the going gets rough he opens up and really goes to town on his opponent. Several rounds of fast, clever wrestling should be the treat for fans.

SEES INCREASE IN AUTO SALES

J. M. Wood, Manager of Begg Motors, Returns From Trip East

An increase of 35 per cent in Chrysler sales during 1937 is expected by dealers from coast to coast, according to J. M. Wood, manager of Begg Motor Company, who returned today from a trip to eastern Canada and the United States.

Mr. Wood attended a convention of Chrysler dealers at Windsor, Ontario, where the new 1937 Dodge and Fargo truck models were announced. The convention lasted four days, during which time the 800 delegates visited the Canadian and American plants and became acquainted with modern methods of manufacture.

While in the east, Mr. Wood visited Toronto and New York.

"Every business man I met was full of optimism for better things this year," Mr. Wood said.

Though the strike situation in the motor industry was serious, it did not affect the Chrysler corporation, he said.

As far as the weather was concerned, Mr. Wood said he found the middle west very cold but Toronto and New York were mild, with light snow. He was not in the flood area.

Mr. Pease is in Montreal during a five-month tour of this continent to study governmental treatment of the problems here.

Louisiana yellow pine is being planted in Queensland to combat disappearance of the forests. This pine grows to usable size in about twenty years and is a desirable wood for mine props and timbers. "We understand a process of making newsprint from yellow pine is being developed," he said.

Fortin Statement to City on Debt Charges to Be Released at Council Meeting

The veil of secrecy which has shrouded the report will be torn aside tomorrow morning when the City Council meets at 9:30 o'clock for an informal discussion, at which Jules S. Fortin, its author, will be present for explanations.

Questioned today on the possibility of making the report public, Mr. Fortin replied that he was entirely up to Mayor Andrew McGavin. The eastern Canada bondholders' representative would vouch no information on the four and one-half hour session he spent with the mayor, city officials and the chairman of the finance committee yesterday.

Mayor McGavin flatly refused to make the terms of the proposals public until they had gone to the aldermen. Copies of the report, however, were available to members of the council in confidence today.

SPECULATION RIFE

In the absence of any information, speculation was rife in the city over the report's contents. Those interested in the negotiations recalled Mr. Fortin's former words on the "penance" the city might have to make. Possible reductions in services are said to be among the recommendations.

The Archbishop of Canterbury's "Recall to Religion" what next? was the subject of a conference in which some 120 members of the congregation of Christ Church Cathedral took part at the Memorial Bazaar on Tuesday night, with Dean Cecil S. Quinton in the chair.

The danger of too frequent appeals from church leaders without subsequent action was stressed by the dean. The Archbishop of Canterbury's appeal, he said, was in line with the present Evangelization of Canadian Life Movement and the local Bishops' Forward Movement.

During the discussion a number of new movements in the cathedral parish were referred to, among them the formation of a training group of young evangelists, the weekly Christian Fellowship meetings for the deepening of spiritual life and evangelism, the Sunday evening mission service in the James Bay district and the holding of house meetings.

Dean Quinton was supported by Rev. E. O. Robathan, George Carter and Gilbert Fraser, church wardens, and Deaconess Margaret Robinson.

Religion Call Is Discussed

The Archbishop of Canterbury's "Recall to Religion" what next? was the subject of a conference in which some 120 members of the congregation of Christ Church Cathedral took part at the Memorial Bazaar on Tuesday night, with Dean Cecil S. Quinton in the chair.

Court Rules on Tax Liability

The fact that a man pays taxes on a house which is in his wife's name does not exempt him from payment of the city's poll tax, it was made clear in the City Police Court this morning.

The point arose during the case against Evan H. Hanbury, charged with failing to pay the tax. Mr. Hanbury said he understood he was exempt as he paid taxes on his home and had done for twelve years.

It was explained he was not an assessed property holder within the meaning of the poll tax act and was therefore liable. He was fined $5, the amount of the tax.

Health Ballot Result Awaited

Doctors Still to Notify Insurance Commission They Will Reject Plan

Hopes of a compromise between the health insurance commission and the medical profession existed in provincial circles today, but all official sources continued silent about the election by the doctors of the commission's medical service plan.

Allan Peebles, commission chairman, returned today from a meeting of the commission in Vancouver yesterday, but declined to indicate his next course of action. He pointed out that the commission has not yet been officially informed of the doctors' refusal of the plan.

The possibility of a major showdown between the medical men and the government in the effort to get health insurance into operation was discussed unofficially. This, however, would be held off until after all other alternatives were exhausted.

The government, evidently, is somewhat doubtful of the public reaction to the impasse and would hesitate to pursue a course contrary to popular opinion.

Further developments were not expected until the doctors have completed their balloting throughout the province and submitted a formal answer to the commission.

TEST STATUS OF OFFICIAL

J. W. Casey Declared Ineligible for Office on Trades Council

Eligibility of Joseph W. Casey, president-elect of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, to hold executive office with the organization, was questioned at the regular meeting yesterday evening.

As a result of a ruling by R. W. Nunn, chairman, that Mr. Casey was ineligible, the recent election at which he and other officers were selected was declared void and a new election will be held in two weeks.

Mr. Casey's status was questioned by Fred Oliver of the Firefighters' Union and vice-president, who claimed Mr. Casey could not be accepted as a delegate of the Truck Drivers' and Teamsters' Union because he was employed as an electrical worker.

Mr. Oliver claimed that only business agents of unions who devoted their full time as business agents could be accepted as delegates.

Mr. Nunn was called to the chair and asked for a ruling. Under the constitution he said Mr. Casey was ineligible.

Mr. Oliver moved to sustain the chair's ruling and the motion passed by a vote of twelve to six. There were several delegates who did not vote.

M. McCall, president of the truck drivers' local, said the council's decision would be appealed to the Trades Council of Canada.

Another controversial issue was brought up during the evening in a discussion on a purported audit of the council's books.

The signed audited statement has been presented to the council over the signatures of C. H. Lester and Arnold Johnson, auditors appointed by the council.

It was reported Mr. Johnson had been late for the audit and had signed the statement without making an itemized check of the accounts. While there was no suggestion that there was anything wrong the council insisted the audit should be properly carried out.

GODOY WINNER BY KNOCKOUT

Chilean Heavyweight Needs Only Three Rounds to Beat Otis Thomas

New York, Feb. 4.—Arturo Godoy, Chilean heavyweight, scored a technical knockout over Otis Thomas, Chicago negro, last night in the third round of a scheduled ten-round feature at the Hippodrome when the referee ordered the bout stopped because of Thomas's badly lacerated eye.

Godoy weighed 190½, and Thomas 197½.

Thomas entered the fight with both eyebrows heavily patched. The South American opened an old wound over the right eye and the Chicago negro bled so profusely that Referee John Martin stepped in, examined the eye after fifty-seven seconds of fighting in the third round and ordered Thomas to his corner.

Blood streaming down Thomas's face, all but blinding him, the Chilean pined in and hammered him unmercifully in the second and third rounds.

As long as the patches stuck, Thomas outfought and outpunched Godoy.

"Tarzan Escapes" Opens Tomorrow

The long-awaited new Tarzan drama, "Tarzan Escapes," starring Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan in the third of the adventure pictures based on the world-famous Edgar Rice Burroughs characters will open tomorrow at the Atlas Theatre.

Set in its weird background of jungle exoticism with Tarzan, the superman, again making his breathtaking swings from tree to tree, fighting off hostile natives and the forces of civilization alike with the beasts of the jungle his friends, the story of primitive existence sends a stirring appeal to all lovers of adventure and romance.

Martha Raye is the star in "Hideaway Girl," which is the second feature.

John Boles Will Be at Columbia

The role of "Jim Kearney" in Paramount's new musical romance, "Rose of the Rancho," which is at the Columbia Theatre today, is well suited to the handsome singing actor, John Boles, who is co-starred with Gladys Swarthout, the noted opera star.

Boles, in the picture, essays the part of a government agent, sent to Southern California to break up a band of land-grabbing desperadoes who are preying on the Spanish Dons.

During the World War Boles served as a secret agent with the American army.

"She Had to Say Yes," with Loretta Young, is the second feature.

Mexican, Spanish Music to Be Heard

The Tipica Orchestra, which will be presented at the Empire Theatre on Friday and Saturday evenings, February 12 and 13, is so named because of its typically Mexican and Spanish instruments and personnel.

The folk songs which intersperse the programme are true to the traditions of old Mexico and Spain—a musical heritage of generations.

This orchestra appeared at the San Diego Exposition in 1935 and the Texas Centennial at Dallas and the Kansas City Annual Jubilees last year.

Assisting the orchestra will be Yon Hahn and de Negre, in a programme of modern interpretive dances.

Comedy Drama Here Tomorrow

Man proposes and woman disposes of him with swift dispatch, especially if he is a millionaire susceptible to the wiles of an international beauty who has her eyes on his bank roll. That, with amusing embroidery, is the theme of Universal's comedy drama, "Three Smart Girls," which opens at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

Three sisters, living on the Riviera with their mother, hear that their wealthy father, divorced for ten years, is paying ardent attention to a renowned lady of diverting charm.

Knowing that their mother still loves him, they rush to New York to save daddy from entangling himself. They use strenuous methods, employing a count to draw the beauty into an alliance which will prevent their father from marrying her.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Cast together for the first time, Madeline Carroll and Tyrone Power are hailed as the screen's new romantic favorites in "Loyds of London," Twentieth Century-Fox story of the love that changed the destiny of an empire, now at the Capitol Theatre.

With Freddie Bartholomew and Virginia Field.

JUNGLE FILM AT THE PLAZA

"Beyond Bengal" Records New Thrills in Big Game Country

"Beyond Bengal," which opened at the Plaza Theatre as an extended travelogue crowded with jungle excitement. But as a well-photographed and concisely planned picture it is a good two hours' entertainment. It is the record of the deeds of one Harry Schenck of Hollywood who wished to spend a longer vacation than most people can afford in tracking unusual quadrupeds with gun and camera.

To accomplish that purpose he persuaded an Oriental potentate, His Highness, the Sultan of Perak, P. M. S. Sir Alang Akader Sha to provide fifty elephants and 1,600 men as an escort through the densities of Malacca.

Mr. Schenck is the central figure of the picture, in which he is affectionately known by the local natives as the "White Master."

It is curious how absorbing the antics of deadly beasts can be when one is at a safe distance. Pythons and king cobras become no more than background for a Kipling.

The second feature is "Big Brown Eyes," starring Joan Bennett and Cary Grant. It is the story of a wise-cracking maniac who helps her boy friend, a detective, solve a series of crimes which have baffled a city.

Madeline Carroll starred, the romance features in the cast Sir Guy Standing, Tyrone Power, C. Aubrey Smith and Virginia Field.

Specialties, Oils And Motors Higher On Wall S. List

Associated Press
New York, Feb. 4.—Reports that a break was near in the General Motors strike deadlock brought late improvement in sections of today's stock market after many issues had suffered early setbacks.

Automotive leaders braced and oils and specialties emerged with gains of fractions to two points. Profit selling kept a number of groups within bounds and losses were plentiful at the close. Transfers approximated 2,300,000 shares.

An assortment of heavy industrials joined the upsurge, mounting to new post-depression highs. Selling there reduced or cancelled much of the advance.

U.S. Government securities and rail loans edged forward in the bond division. Commodities were uneven. Shares out in front during the greater part of the proceedings included Bethlehem, Gulf States Steel, Yellow Truck, Gimbel, Union of California, Howe Sound, Inspiration Corp., Boeing and American Commercial Alcohol.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have been going with a young man for almost a year. Am very much in love with him and he tells me he adores me, but he treats me in such a casual and inconsiderate way that I do not know what to think of it. He breaks engagements without any real excuse. Is tardy in keeping appointments. Never telephones when he is going to be late, although he has a phone on his desk. For a week he has had my purse and compact that he promised to return, but he never bothered to do it; says he forgets them. This, of course, is a small matter in itself, but it is just a sample of his attitude toward me. He treats his own family the same way and tells me they don't mind, and I am making a mountain out of a molehill. My parents urge me to give him up, saying that if he shows so little consideration now, what will he do after we are married? What do you think? Have I lost my perspective, or am I getting a clear view of the future? I. D. J.

Answer— I think your young man is giving you a sample of the way he will treat his wife, and that you should be very sure that you like it before you undertake a life diet of it. Don't delude yourself with the false belief that marriage will work some sort of a miracle in his disposition that will change him from a callously indifferent and selfish man to one who will be considerate and thoughtful of his wife.

Nothing of the kind is going to happen. Marriage doesn't change a man. It only makes him more so and intensifies his characteristics. If a man is sensitive, understanding and chivalrous to his sweetheart, he will be tender and protective to his wife. He will be thoughtful of her in little matters and try to save her from all the petty annoyances and cares that he can.

But if a man puts his own comfort and convenience first and his sweetheart's last, if he won't put himself out to save her annoyance; if he breaks an engagement because he does not happen to feel like keeping it; if he won't even take the trouble to telephone to save her anxious waiting when he has to be late in keeping an appointment, and if he thinks all little courtesies and attentions are nonsense, you may be sure that after marriage he will make one of the neglectful husbands who treat their wives as if they were pieces of household furniture, good only to make them comfortable.

No doubt there are women who are philosophical enough to be able to take it for granted that their husbands still love them, although they never give any signs of it; who don't feel hurt at having to remind their husbands of their wedding anniversaries and who had just as soon have their husbands hand them a cheque with "I don't know what you want," as to have a gift that showed that he had remembered their tastes; who don't resent their husbands never noticing whether they are sick or well, or have on a new dress or an old one, and who don't seem even to expect their husbands to treat them with common politeness, to say nothing of chivalry.

But such women are rare. What every woman in her heart craves is to have her husband show her little attentions. A bunch of flowers, a little treat, tucking her up on a couch when she is tired, remembering what she likes to eat, a telephone call that will save her trouble, bulk larger in the wife's mind than paying her bills. Every man before marriage tips his sweetheart off to the kind of a husband he is going to make. Generally she is so much in love that she refuses to take it. But many a girl could save herself a lot of grief if she would heed the warning that is given her in plenty of time to take to the lifeboat instead of going to the altar.

DEAR MISS DIX—Which do you consider more important in life, manners or morals? A. B. C.

Answer—Morals, of course, but why choose between them when one is the complement of the other? Each improves the other. Morals are the sturdy oak of character. Manners are the polish that puts an exquisite finish on character and makes it all the more beautiful and admirable.

Gone are the days when a man thought that he exhibited independence by disregarding appearances and wearing soiled linen and slouchy clothes, when he proved that he was truthful by saying unpleasant things, and his honesty by uncouthness and boorishness; when he considered eating with his knife was sign and token of virtue. The rough diamond has been superseded by the polished one.

The stupidest man knows that it strengthens a man's character rather than weakens it for him to be well-dressed, to have poise, suavity and a good address. For when a man looks like a gentleman, and acts like one he is more likely to be a gentleman.

On the other hand, of course, manners without morals are just the veneer that cracks and shows how rotten is the wood beneath. For good manners spring from a good heart, from the courtesy that is unselfishness and a desire to help others, from the kindness that wishes to make things pleasant for other people, from the altruism that seeks to make the world a better place in which to live. It takes both principle and manners to make a fine man. DOROTHY DIX.

IV—TAME ELEPHANTS

After being tamed, Indian elephants are set to work of many kinds. They lie down together or stand up on their hind legs. With their trunks they can wave fans, turn hand-organs and wipe their eyes with handkerchiefs.

Sometimes a zoo has an elephant which delights visitors by doing tricks which seem very amusing. The New York zoo obtained an elephant and gave it the name of Alice. In summer time she gave short rides to children and adults who visited her yard. Her keeper taught Alice to blow a mouth organ, to take a telephone receiver off the hook, and to hold the receiver close to her ear!

Another elephant at the same zoo used to beg coins from visitors. His name was "Gunda," and he would pick a coin from the hand of a visitor, or take it from the ground where it had been tossed. Then he would raise the lid of a "cash-box," and drop the coin in it. After that, he would ring a bell, letting everybody know he had put the coin where it was supposed to go.

Since Gunda was trained for the trick, it was all right to give him a coin, but it would be a wrongful thing to give one to an elephant expecting peanuts. Zoo keepers do not seem to mind having peanuts fed to elephants, but we should never try to "foot" an elephant by giving it something not fit to eat.

Speaking of eating, it is interesting to know that an elephant often eats from a quarter to a third of a ton of food each day. Most of this is hay or other fodder.
